MAN, WOMAN KILLED IN CRASH

Doctor Issues Ruling

Gas Leak, Fumes Termed Cause In Deaths Of 2 Men

A combination of leaking natural gas and carbon monoxide fumes was blamed for the deaths of an elderly East Liverpool man and his son who were found early Thursday afternoon in their apartment in a double house at 425 Elm St.

Dr. Roy C. Costello, deputy county coroner, ruled that Elmer E. Boring, 76, and his son, Richard F. Boring, 46, died from asphyxiation. He estimated the deaths occurred about 10 p.m. Wednesday.

The men were overcome by deadly fumes emanating from an open gas jet on a heating stove in a vacant basement apartment directly beneath the Boring residence and from two unvented gas hot water heaters in each ground floor apartment which supplied water to the four apartments, Dr. Costello said.

The investigation by Dr. Costello and Police Capt. R. H. Pyle, acting chief, along with Patrolmen Floyd Heddleston and William McDaniel revealed that Daniel Germanovich, who occupies one of the ground floor apartments, disconnected the heater in his small apartment two days ago after Mrs. Virginia S. Egnor, who resided next door to the Borings, complained of fumes.

Police said Mrs. Egnor also complained of leaking gas to Mrs.

Gordon Lisle, owner of the frame dwelling, several months ago.

Deaths 'Unnecessary'

Calling the double deaths "unnecessary," Dr. Costello said the city should have a regulation governing the installation of heating devices and hot water tanks.

Pointing out the three occupied apartments had between 10 and 15 occupants on Wednesday night, Dr. Costello also cited the threat of an explosion.

"All someone had to do was light a match and — boom. It could have been a disaster," he declared.

"There should be a law and it should be enforced," Dr. Costello commented, pointing out there probably are other homes in the city with faulty installations. He cited Pittsburgh as a city which is cracking down on persons who fail to meet regulations concerning heating installations.

City Code Explained
(At present, the only sections of the city code pertaining to heating make it unlawful to use a rubber hose for gas connection and require those responsible for furnishing heat to maintain a minimum temperature of 68 degrees.)

$2 Billion Budget Gets OK In Ohio

$5.4 Million Cuts Restored; DiSalle's Signature Awaited

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The $2 billion state appropriations bill—with $5.4 million restored from previous cuts—is on its way to the governor.

Relieved state lawmakers are turning their attention to bills that stand between them and final adjournment. But it's increasingly doubtful they can finish the job before next week.

The House gave final approval, almost strictly along party lines, to the budget bill late Thursday night by a 75-47 margin. The Senate stayed in session until after midnight, finally giving its approval by a 20-17 vote.

Both houses were voting on the report of a conference committee—three senators, three representatives—which sought to reconcile Senate and House versions of the budget bill.

The measure provides the money to run state government from now until June 30, 1963. The House trimmed about $26.1 million before passing the bill originally; the Senate $16.7 more.

As finally approved by both houses, the total is $2,030,826,370, a decrease of $37 million from the governor's suggested minimum budget. Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, a Democrat, made one higher budget suggestion earlier, but Republicans, who control both houses of the legislature, refused to consider it, saying it was $75 million out of line.

But Sen. William H. Deddens, R-Hamilton, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, warned that increased rates of state taxes could result in an "increase in state taxes of $100 million for the next (1963-65 biennium) two-year period."

The biggest restoration is $4.4 million for state universities. Ohio State would get $2,344,621 more, Kent State $569,629, Miami $551,349, Ohio University $521,320, Bowling Green State $402,950 and Central State College $164,979.

A $2 million reduction in health care for the aged was reinstated, as was $200,000 to begin a program of retaining those who lose their jobs because of technological changes.

Civil defense, which had seen its entire $542,540 appropriation chopped away, got back $200,000. But $150,000 cut away from a proposal for a safety education and research center at Ohio State University was not restored.

Some $100,000 was provided to get a scholarship loan program under way, and $30,000 for a commission to administer it. Ohio State University Hospital got back $200,000—half the amount cut from its appropriation.

Tractor Flips And Kills Man

Lawrence D. Moore Is Mishap's Victim

Lawrence Duane Moore, 22, of Hookstown, an employee of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Co. in Aliquippa, was killed instantly near his home Thursday afternoon when a tractor on which he was riding overturned.

The victim had been cutting hay in a field on his father's farm and was trimming the edges when the tractor upset about 2 p.m. He died of a broken neck.

He was born March 1, 1939, at Hookstown R.D., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Moore, with whom he resided. He was a member of the first graduating class of South Side High School in 1957.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a sister, Betty Moore, and a brother, Lewis Moore, both at home.

Services will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Welch Funeral Home in Hookstown by the Rev. A. D. Anderson, pastor of the Hanover United Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in the Mill Creek Hill Cemetery, near Hookstown.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 tonight and Saturday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 10 p.m.

U.S. Frames New Note To Khrushchev

Will Say No Point In Talks On Berlin Unless Better Ideas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has framed a note telling Soviet Premier Khrushchev, in effect, that there is not much point in negotiating over Berlin unless he comes up with more reasonable ideas. It probably will go to Khrushchev next week.

The point is understood to be made with diplomatic indirection by:

(a) Saying this country is always ready to negotiate for a solution of the problem when a reasonable basis for negotiations exists; and

(b) Refraining from making any specific proposal for talks.

The communication, being put into final form in consultations with Britain, France and West Germany, will respond to the memorandum Khrushchev gave President Kennedy at the end of their Berlin talks in Vienna a month ago.

Similar notes from London, Paris and Bonn are expected to follow the U.S. communication to Moscow.

Khrushchev demanded that Berlin, a Western outpost inside Communist East Germany, be made a "free city" under some sort of international guarantees. The Western powers have turned that idea down many times and Khrushchev has threatened to make a separate peace treaty East Germany, contending that they would wipe out Western rights in Berlin and along the access corridors from West Germany.

The replies from the United States and its partners are expected to tell Khrushchev a treaty made by Russia alone cannot cancel out the rights of others.

They also are expected to argue for a Berlin solution as part of a wider German settlement on the basis of self-determination. Kennedy stressed that idea at a recent news conference.

Soviet Union Seen Pushing Kuwait Issue

Expected To Press U.N. On Pullout Of British Troops

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union is expected to demand that the Security Council set a deadline for Britain to withdraw her troops from Kuwait.

Soviet delegate Platon D. Morozov made plain he would seek to amend a British resolution calling for a pullout.

Kuwait Army Chief Charges Iraq Buildup

KUWAIT (AP)—Kuwait's army commander in chief charged today Iraq's Premier Abdul Karim Kassem is continuing his military buildup and said "We are ready to fight if Kassem wants to."

Brig. Sheikh Mubarak al Jabbar al Sabah, 29, British-trained nephew of Kuwait's ruler, declared in an interview: "We will defend our country with all the power we possess."

ing on the United Nations to guarantee the independence of the desert sheikdom claimed by Iraq.

The Soviet diplomat charged the British resolution was a maneuver to justify the presence of British troops in the oil-rich little Persian Gulf territory "and to legalize them there for an indefinite period of time."

In the council Thursday Britain again promised to remove her forces from her former protectorate the moment Kuwait's ruler, Sheikh Abdullah as-Salim as-Sabah considers Iraq's threat to take over his sheikdom has been removed.

Sheikh Abdullah has appealed to the British for military protection.

The Kuwait education director, Abdel Aziz Hussein, representing the sheik in the council debate, said Kuwait would ask the British to withdraw only after the U. N. affirms Kuwait's independence, declares Iraq has no valid claim and admits Kuwait to U. N. membership.

Will Visit Britain

MOSCOW (AP)—Space pioneer Yuri A. Gagarin will visit Britain during the Soviet industrial exhibition that opened in London today, the Soviet news agency Tass announced. The announcement did not say when Gagarin would arrive.

SMASHED DEATH CAR. Two persons lost their lives early today when this 1950 sedan went off Route 39 in Yellow Creek Township and overturned in a field. The victims were the driver, Mrs. Thelma Stewart, 30, of 729 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, and John Henry Coe, 71, of Salineville R. D. 1. Mrs. Stewart's husband was injured. A sheriff's deputy and a member of the State Highway Patrol, along with a bystander, are shown examining the wreckage.

U.S. Building Huge Tunnels At Test Site

Despite Ban, AEC Prepares For Day When A-Talks End

YUCCA FLATS, Nev. (AP)—Despite the 32-month ban on nuclear tests, the Atomic Energy Commission is busy building a sprawling complex of underground tunnels at its Nevada test site.

The AEC simply says it is preparing for the day if and when disarmament talks end—in discord. But some experts say the subterranean labyrinth 65 miles northwest of Las Vegas someday may be the site for testing of an ultimate weapon: the neutron bomb.

The neutron device, years away from the testing stage, is envisioned as a weapon which would destroy people but spare property.

Scientists theorize that the bomb, triggered above ground by a small blast, could loose a deadly rain of radioactivity, penetrating several feet of earth or concrete to kill or maim. But it would leave factories and homes virtually unscathed—apparently a desirable goal for any theoretical victor in a thermonuclear war.

The AEC refuses to comment about the neutron bomb, but there is speculation that research on the project is going on at the commission's radiation laboratory at Livermore, Calif., birthplace of the hydrogen bomb.

The federal agency says the tunnels are being constructed for any use deemed necessary if and when the administration decides to resume nuclear testing.

Atlas Fired In Flight Of 9,050 Miles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The business end of an Atlas missile hurtled out of the western sky like a blazing meteor and crashed into the Indian Ocean early today at the end of the longest military rocket flight on record—a 9,050-mile journey from Cape Canaveral.

The distance exceeded by only 10 miles the course covered by two Atlases also fired into the Indian Ocean last year. But, more important, it marked the first long-range success for an advanced Atlas being developed to carry blockbuster payloads almost halfway around the world.

The Air Force had been deeply concerned about seven failures in 10 previous test launchings of this new Atlas "E" series. But pleased officials reported after today's success that the problems appear to be licked.

The huge missile, 85 feet tall and weighing more than 100 tons on liftoff, blasted off just before midnight Thursday night and darted into a star-filled sky. About 4½ minutes later, an inertial guidance system sensed the rocket was on the proper course and ordered engine shutoff and separation of the nose cone.

Crucible Leases Treadwell Plant

The Crucible Steel Co. announced today it has acquired a lease on the closed Treadwell Construction Co. plant at Midland with an option to purchase the property for $1,125,000.

The agreement becomes effective Oct. 1.

The announcement was made by Walter E. Gregg, Crucible's vice president of operations.

"The company's decision to utilize the Treadwell property indicates the confidence Crucible has in its Midland Works and its employees," he said.

"Our future is tied largely in with the communities and the people in this area. This move will prove an economic stimulus for all by gaining and holding more business for Crucible."

'Others Could Have Done It'

Expectant Mother Tells About Rescuing Caroline

BOSTON (AP)—A young mother who rescued 3-year-old Caroline Kennedy when she fell into water over her head at a private pool says "any of the mothers standing around could have done the thing I did."

Caroline, daughter of President and Mrs. Kennedy, apparently suffered no ill effects from her ducking in 4 or 4½ feet of water a week ago Thursday at the Bethesda, Md., home of Mr. and Mrs. Newton I. Steers Jr. Mrs. Steers is the daughter of Mrs. Kennedy's stepfather, Hugh D. Auchincloss.

The White House confirmed the incident after the Washington Evening Star told about it in a story by society columnist Betty Beale.

The rescuer was Mrs. William Saltonstall, daughter-in-law of U.S. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass. Mrs. Saltonstall, 30, who is expecting a third child in the early fall, was at the children's party with her 3-year-old daughter Claire.

She told the Boston Traveler: "There were six or seven other mothers there also. We were all standing around the pool helping our children into their bathing suits and talking to each other. Suddenly I looked up and saw Caroline push off the edge of the pool clinging to a raft."

"Then to my horror she slipped from the raft and started to go down. I was about 10 feet from the edge of the pool. I ran and jumped over a small wall and leaped into the water. I was fully dressed at the time."

"I grabbed Caroline and pulled her to the edge. She looked at me, not a bit frightened, and asked why I had my clothes on in the water."

"I told her that having clothes on in the water was sometimes fun. That's about all that happened."

Mrs. Kennedy was not at the party. Caroline had gone there

Letter Admits Plan To Slash Area Project

Head Of Democrats Points To Need For Columbiana Work

DON R. GOSNEY, Columbiana County Democratic chairman, today sent a letter to Ohio Highway Director E. S. Preston in connection with a proposed diversion of some funds allotted for a local segment of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway for another section of the road near Columbiana.

An East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce committee, headed by Atty. Francis Lang, is seeking a meeting with the state highway director to object to the proposal.

Gosney today explained the proposed project, under which a segment of the new Route 11 would be built from near Copeland's Lake on Route 164 to an intersection with Route 14-A. It would be a substitute for a long-time plan to eliminate a low underpass on Route 164 which has handicapped truck travel in the village area for many years, he said.

Funds for the proposed Columbiana area work would be diverted from a planned third segment of the river-lake road in this district, according to the proposal.

The present West End project is the first local segment, a roadway from the city limits to Substation would be the second and an extension from Substation to Rock Camp would be the third.

Gosney said the proposal calls for the third section to be built to Apples Corners instead of Rock Camp, and the remainder of the funds to be utilized for the Columbiana area project.

Gosney's letter to Preston, which he released this morning, follows:

Dear Director, "I see by the newspaper that my good friend, Atty. Francis Lang, chairman of the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce highway committee, wrote you a letter in regard to building a leg of State Route 11 between Route 164 and Route 14-A."

"Knowing Atty. Lang and the other members of his committee, I know that if they had known the background on this situation, they, not being selfish people,

3 Killed, 1 Injured Critically In Crash

BUCYRUS, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Alta McCleary, 62, of Findlay, in critical condition in Crestline Hospital, hung onto life today after a broadside auto collision that killed her husband and two Crawford County women.

The accident occurred Thursday at the intersection of U.S. 30 North and Ohio 598 about 8½ miles east of here.

Dead are Firmin D. McCleary, 61, driver of one car; Mrs. Louise Marquart, 60, Bucyrus, the other driver, and her passenger, Anna Bender, 72, of nearby Tiro.

Mrs. McCleary suffered multiple chest and internal injuries and a fractured jaw.

A 30-year-old Wellsville woman and a Salineville area man, 71, were killed and the woman's husband was injured early today when their car veered off Route 39 in Yellow Creek Township, tore through a wire fence and overturned in a field.

Dead are Mrs. Thelma Stewart, 30, of 729 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, driver of the auto, and John Henry Coe of Salineville R.D. 1, who authorities say moved recently from the Alliance area.

Floyd Stewart, 28, husband of the dead woman, is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with a laceration of the scalp.

The double deaths made the Columbiana County highway toll six for 1961, compared to 13 dead at this time last year.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the Stewart's car, a 1950 sedan, was headed west when Mrs. Stewart apparently lost control on a left curve about 150 yards past the "Y" intersection with County Rd. 418 near the Frischkorn Skating Rink. The mishap was timed at 2:45 a.m.

Officers said the car went off the right side of the road, then veered back across the roadway and off the left side of the highway, smashing through a wire cattle fence and rolling over. About 40 feet of the fence was ripped down, the patrol reported.

Coe, who resided about three miles south of Hayti near Salineville, died from a fractured skull, internal injuries and lacerations of the face.

Mrs. Stewart died from multiple injuries, including fractures of the neck, spine, skull and right leg and severe internal injuries.

The couple apparently met Coe in a Wellsville tavern and offered to take him home in their car, authorities stated. Coe was sitting in the front seat by the door and Stewart was between him and his wife when the mishap occurred, the patrol said.

Authorities were seeking to locate relatives of Coe late this morning.

Court Appeal Scheduled By 'Fired' Chief

EAST PALESTINE — An appeal to Common Pleas Court at Lisbon was prepared Thursday night by ex-Police Chief Richard Lotze after a Municipal Civil Service Commission upheld his June 1 dismissal on six of the nine charges originally filed.

The commission deliberated about 30 minutes after Lotze was cross-examined and closing arguments were heard.

E. C. Milliken, chairman, said guilt on any one of the charges would be sufficient grounds for upholding Lotze's dismissal.

The one-time chief was found guilty of falsifying working hours, slandering Sheriff Russell VanFossen, improper relations with certain women, insubordination, failure to maintain proper standards of conduct as an officer, inefficiency in duty, mistreatment of prisoners and illegal sale of city equipment.

He was found not guilty of creating dissension within the department — the commission said dissension was present before he became chief — failure to cooperate with superiors, failure to train new officers — the commission said testimony of other police chiefs showed no training standards in this district — and maintaining a telephone at city expense.

Hasty Decisions Should Be Avoided

The Highway Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has acted wisely in requesting a meeting with Ohio Highway Director E. S. Preston to discuss a reported effort to alter construction priority on segments of the Lake Erie - Ohio River highway.

Committee members became disturbed when it was reported that funds would be diverted from the proposed segment just north of East Liverpool — third phase of the operation in this area — for use on a short stretch near the community of Columbiana.

The Chamber's alarm is not based on selfishness in any manner. Residents of East Liverpool and the immediate area are fully aware that the highway must be completed in its entirety to meet the purpose for which it was designed and appreciate and respect the feelings of other communities along the route.

IT SEEMS LOGICAL and proper, however, to suggest that the construction should proceed according to well-defined plans and not be revised on the spur of the moment. From the available "timetable", there's reason to believe that the swing toward the Columbiana segment may have come in a hurry — possibly too great a hurry.

As the Chamber committee pointed out in its letter to Mr. Preston requesting a meeting, "a news release from Columbiana on June 15 stated that Don R. Gosney (Columbiana County Democratic chairman) had requested that you build immediately the Columbiana leg of the lake-to-river freeway and that you had accordingly directed the Division 11 office (at New Philadelphia) to 'determine the feasibility of submitting it for a presently programmed project'."

The Chamber letter continues: "A news report from Columbiana two weeks later, stated that on June 28 Mr. Gosney had arranged with the Division 11 office to advance construction of the Columbiana link by diverting part of the funds from our third stage of the U.S. 30 and State Route 11 project by stopping its construction at the intersection of U.S. 30 and State Route 7 instead of extending it to Rock Camp as originally programmed by your department."

THIS INFORMATION thus indicates that the consideration of and the decision relative to the proposed change took place between June 15 and June 28, hardly a period of time that could be regarded as adequate for proper planning when compared with the months that went into the over-all program.

When a project as costly and as important as the river-to-lake highway is involved, it seems imperative that no phase of the operation be left open to question in the minds of the taxpayers. A sudden shift now to the Columbiana phase of the program might raise such a question.

It is to be hoped Mr. Preston will give every consideration to the East Liverpool delegation's presentation when a meeting is arranged.

Pricewise, Our Finest Hour

There always has been this baffling irony about the finest hours that men have experienced—that they didn't know it at the time.

How many Americans realize this is their finest hour, pricewise?

This is the instant in a lifetime when prices are stable and wage rates are climbing.

This is that rosy vision of the perfectionists when all of us who are working are inching up a notch or two on the hog, eating higher all the time.

This is that despaired of respite from trouble when there isn't anything to worry about, pricewise.

Viewers with alarm do not have to be worried about inflation.

Economists staking their reputations on predictions do not have to warn the public about runaway prices.

LOOKED AT in long perspective, this will be one of those placid, glassy pools that men will yearn to see again if they pass this way—the kind of a quiet, reflective place that they will dream about.

Along with the way prices are caught and held in a beam of economic sunlight is the way employment continues to rise like a summer sun, getting bigger and brighter by the minute.

If it weren't for the way unemployment continues to rise, too, like a cloud bank coming up in the West as fast as the sun risers in the East, perfection could be claimed. Even so, a notion persists that something must have gone funny about employment-unemployment bookkeeping and that unemployment totals at best are only statistical projections of how many people would take jobs if they could be counted, not how many are actually unemployed.

But is not this climax of perfection the beginning of deterioration? Perfection itself can be only one instant in time. What happens next?

THE MOST HOPEFUL say there is going to be more of the same stability in 1961, to be followed by a boom in 1962.

In either event, uncertainty becomes the prospect. If there is too much of the same stability, prices might start to fall, and that would be deflation. If a boom begins in 1962, prices will go up again, and that will be inflation.

Stabilization is what everybody wants, or says he wants, and stabilization is now, present tense—our finest hour, pricewise.

Sylvia Porter, the lady economist who reports these things so engagingly, says the Consumers Price Index may not rise as much as 1½ per cent for the whole year of 1961 and might even rise less than that.

Never has economic Nirvana been so near. Let all who have dreamed about it take a deep breath and sigh. "This is it—the moment we've been waiting for!"

Revisiting The Garst Farm

The last time we had heard about the Roswell Garst farm was in a session of newspapermen complaining about mismanagement of news coverage the day Soviet Premier Khrushchev visited it, Sept. 23, 1959. That seemed a frivolous waste of time because most newspaper readers thought Khrushchev and his host had more than enough coverage that day.

But now a Russian journalist who spent a few days on the Garst farm this year—Garst made his fortune in hybrid corn—has directed attention once more to this famous spread at Coon Rapids, Ia. He has annoyed farmer Garst by accusing him of low pay. This, retorts Garst, isn't true. The Russian journalist, he explains, made the mistake of citing occasional day labor pay at $1.10 an hour ($1.70 on Sunday) and ignoring the farm's salaried personnel.

No matter how many changes mechanized farming has made for the better, it wasn't too long ago that working on a farm in the good old summertime was a privilege almost worth paying for, provided the meals were up to snuff and the bed was good. Workers used to thrive on a routine that began soon after sunup and ran out soon after sundown.

The work wasn't easy, but on the contrary it wasn't hard, as work in a coal mine was, or in a shovel gang in town. The air was fresh and free, the water was cool, no one left the table hungry and no one had trouble going to sleep.

That part about sleep, that was special. From 9 p.m. to 5 a.m. was eight good hours — enough for anybody. On Saturday night, it might be a little later at both ends, but there wasn't anything else to do when the work was done.

In the course of the years, millions of men worked on farms for small pay and large rewards in health and peace of mind. Like the happy poor who didn't know they were poor, farm help was downtrodden labor that didn't know it was downtrodden. It still doesn't, especially if the lady of the house runs a good kitchen.

The Once Over

Declaration of Independence as it might appear to be understood by autoists on a holiday weekend:

When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for the people to dissolve ordinary rules of human behavior and to assume the powers and methods of self importance, a swift look through the windshield impels them to declare the cause which brought about the switch:

We believe these truths to be self evident—that all men are created equal up to the time they set hand on a steering wheel and a foot on a gas pedal; that they are endowed with certain inalienable rights and that among these are contempt for life, safety-first commissions and a reasonable pursuit of happiness.

We believe that to secure these rights, rules are instituted among men deriving their just powers from Detroit, undermanned police departments, the national VIP complex and the desire to beat the other fellow by ten seconds; that whenever any form of conduct becomes obstructive to free exercise of dangerous driving and impatience, it is the right of tourists to abolish such restrictions and institute their whims, impulses, and discourtesies.

We hold that there is no sense in enduring laws, however sensible and long respected, when arrogance is hampered on the open road and that it is the right of the people to throw off such forms and write their own rules, driving "no-hands."

We therefore declare that autoists are and ought to be a free and ruthlessly independent people and should be absolved from injustices imposed by speed limits, roadside warnings, red lights, caution signals or carbon in the motors. For this we pledge our support, our arrogance and our low license plate numbers, while still doing 60 per hour in a 30 mile area.

Unions Face Anti-Trust Moves

By Sen. John L. McClellan

(While Victor Riesel is en route to the Middle East and other news centers of the world to gather material for future columns, some of the top policymaking leaders of the U. S. have agreed to substitute for him. Sen. John McClellan of Arkansas is the first guest columnist.)

In recent months some of our large corporations have been heavily fined and their top executives sent to jail for rigging bids and fixing prices in violation of our anti-trust laws. This action was not only proper but, I believe, long overdue.

In the same period of time we have witnessed Jimmy Hoffa, boss of the powerful Teamsters Union, actively promoting a plan to unite all labor unions of the transportation industry into a mutual-assistance pact for the purpose of supporting each other in collective bargaining proceedings and in the settlement of labor disputes with management.

The potential, and almost certain, consequences that would flow from such an alliance between all or most of the transportation unions in this country are indeed frightful to contemplate.

SUCH A COALITION, if consummated, would create exorbitant and monopolistic powers—economic, social, and political—and vest such powers in irresponsible organizations and individuals who under the law would be, in large measure, unaccountable to the people they serve and to our government for the legitimate and proper exercise of those powers.

Mr. Hoffa and his satellite unions would largely control the destiny of our free enterprise system and could on the slightest pretext and without any justifiable cause whatsoever compel management, the public, and the government to acquiesce in and submit to whatever arbitrary terms, unfair conditions and unreasonable demands they might choose to make.

Upon the slightest whim and caprice and upon a single command these unions could — and I have not the slightest doubt that they would — halt the flow of raw materials to our factories, and of manufactured products to our distribution centers and consumers, and paralyze and bring to a complete stop the wheels of commerce in every segment of our national transportation systems.

BY THE USE of the tremendous power that would be reposed in the heads of such a combination—and certainly by the abuse of it — supplies of food, clothing, and other absolute essentials of life could be shut off and denied to the people and the consuming public, until management and government, in abject and supine obedience, submitted to their extortionate demands.

Thus, if businessmen should be fined and sent to jail for monopolistic activities in the field of price-fixing — and they have been, and should be — should not a combine and conspiracy of disreputable union officials with powers to do even greater injury to the public be regarded under the law as a similar offense against the public and our government and be likewise punished?

To this, there can only be an affirmative answer. Our people must be protected from exploitation and flagrant abuses and impositions from either source — management or labor.

It is the duty of Congress to enact laws adequate to provide such protection. For that reason, I am preparing and shall soon introduce in the Senate of the United States legislation that would make transportation unions subject to the anti-trust laws and which consequently would outlaw any pact among transportation unions such as Hoffa has proposed.

Such a conspiracy — such force and economic power — must be proscribed by law just as a similar concentration of power in the hands of a corporate entity is now forbidden by existing anti-trust and anti-monopoly statutes.

ANOTHER DANGER of great magnitude to the survival of our country and of immediate public concern was revealed recently by the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations in the shocking disclosures made of strikes, wildcat work stoppages, featherbedding, deliberate slowdowns, and the low productivity of labor at our missile bases.

Some unions, their members and workers, at Cape Canaveral and other missile sites, engaged in a form of extortion and blackmail, placing greed above patriotism.

Knowing full well that we were involved in a frantic space race with Communist Russia, they simply refused to work except on their own arbitrary, exorbitant, and expensive terms.

Thus, through various nefarious practices, they were able to garner weekly wages that ran in many instances in excess of $600 per week and to gouge millions of dollars that they did not earn and to which they were not entitled out of the federal government and out of the pockets of American taxpayers.

While doing this, they were carefully making a most substantial contribution to our falling several months behind in the fateful missile competition with world-Communist.

I also am preparing and shall introduce a bill to outlaw such conduct and prevent such actions.

The measure, however, will establish a tribunal to deal with and resolve such problems, grievances, and labor disputes as may arise between labor and management engaged in the construction or operation of any facility related to national security and our defense program.

I shall confidently press for congressional action — for the enactment of these laws that I here propose.

I believe them definitely to be in the national interest. They may well be absolutely vital to our security and survival.

Fresh Out Of Aspirins

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON The first half of 1961 was a kind of aspirin for a headache that won't go away. We are now fresh out of aspirins.

Up till June 30 President Kennedy's administration had—comparatively—a delightful time with both Congress and the Russians.

In Congress, where he lacks enough support to sail his programs through as he asks, he used two simple but adroit methods to get what he wanted:

1. For the most part he offered very moderate programs which, by their nature, avoided violent opposition: differences with members of Congress on various points but not on total programs.

2. He used pressure, persuasion and concessions by himself and members of his White House staff to win over such opposition as he had. This has been a very smooth operation. Kennedy's own 15 years in Congress made him expert on this.

The result was a big batch of legislation which — if that had been all that was involved—would have given him a very successful first year in office. But it wasn't all.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The newly-pledged group of Kappa Chapter of Omega Nu Tau Sorority met at the home of Miss Jeanette Herbert of Lincoln Ave. and elected Miss Herbert as president.

The 54-year-old city hall at East 3rd and Market Sts. was termed a "fire trap" and was condemned in a report by a Columbus investigator for the division of building inspectors.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — W. Branch, manager of the Wellsville branch of the Potters Bank & Trust Co., was sworn in as a member of the Wellsville Board of Education.

Congress cleaned up most of the programs before June 30. But the three biggest and most controversial were left over until after the Fourth of July holiday.

These were federal aid to education, the foreign aid program and medical care for the aged. The medical care bill looks just about dead for 1961, isn't likely to get action until 1962.

The big stumble in his foreign aid program is his request to Congress to give him authority to promise this aid on a five-year basis. He wants recipient nations to be able to plan long-range instead of on the present year-to-year basis.

Congress is hesitant about signing the check for that far ahead. There'll be rough-and-tumble on this one.

So Khrushchev waited till early June to tell Kennedy he wanted a Berlin settlement within six months.

From now till the end of the year the heat will build up, since something will have to be done.

So the second half of 1961 ought to wind up being a pistol.

Disquieting Rumors

By David Lawrence

U.S. Mobilization Viewed As Foolhardy

Lately there have been rumors and stories floating around Washington that the United States is planning some kind of military mobilization. One report circulated in stock market circles has been that President Kennedy was being urged to declare a limited emergency, and that David Lawrence perhaps he would do it.

Nothing could worsen the situation more than tactics of obvious bluff. Any idea that a partial mobilization would at this time "show the Russians we mean business" is fallacious. With an open society like that in the United States and an uncontrolled press, every detail of such a mobilization would be published, and the Soviets would soon be able to measure how remote the possibility was that any such steps would mean anything in a military way.

The world has changed a good deal since the mobilization which preceded World War I in 1914. It started a chain reaction then that made war inevitable. It gave no latitude for negotiation of a peaceful settlement.

The same thing was true prior to 1939. Secret diplomacy produced an agreement between the Soviets and Hitler that actually brought on World War II. For Hitler was sure he could win with the help of Stalin's armies.

Today the Russians would like nothing better than an excuse to mobilize their own millions of soldiers. It would be welcomed in the Kremlin as an opportunity to divert the attention of the people from their food shortages and other internal troubles.

If it becomes necessary to have a showdown with Russia, it would be better to do it by the slow but effective methods of economic boycott and trade restriction without the spectacular measures that military mobilization involve.

Furthermore, the Soviets would be much more deeply impressed by any such program of sacrifice than by a theatrical demonstration on the military side.

EVEN CONCEDED that some military move is necessary, what should it be and how could it be carried out?

Is a mobilization of land armies in Europe of any real value in an era of missiles and long-range bomber planes?

Also, these days it doesn't mean much to place just an extra division or two in Europe or to go through some land or naval maneuvers. Demonstrations of many of the new weapons of war have been going on for some time now at Cape Canaveral and California bases.

As a matter of fact, the theory that a show of military might will prove anything to the Kremlin is based on the notion that the military superiority of the West is accepted in Moscow.

Khrushchev, of course, knows better than anyone else in the world that a nuclear war would not merely destroy much of his empire but would mean the end of Communist imperialism in these times, just as it meant the end of militarism in Japan and Germany 16 years ago.

It could produce internal revolution in Russia and in the satellite states.

It is a tragic commentary on the vacillation of America's diplomacy in recent times that firmness has to be simulated at all. There has been altogether too much talking big and then doing little to back up the words of the diplomats.

ONE REASON for this is the confusion in the Western camp. Each country not only feels it must have its formula of negotiation accepted, but there are times when one partner weakens and holds back the other allies.

What would impress the Kremlin more than anything else would be a demonstration of unity by the West. This means joint communications in unequivocal terms signed by all the partners, putting an end to the system of separate dealings with Moscow by Britain, France and the United States.

Nikita Khrushchev is counting, for example, on the divergence of view among the Western Allies as to the measures to be taken with respect to Berlin. He has seen no evidence that the Allies have united on any policy or have decided what they would do if Berlin's status is changed by force.

The most salutary thing that could happen would be for the Allies to define their position and stick to it.

Unhappily, while recent notes indicate adherence to the principle of retaining West Berlin as is, there is a hint of a willingness somehow to change — to retreat.

It is this backing and vagueness which create the real danger. No amount of parading of military forces will alter the image of disunity which the Western Allies present from day to day in dealing with the crises provoked by the Moscow government. It's time for a demonstration of diplomatic unity.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I've tried to tell you before that time is the uncontrollable element in politics, and now I'm going to tell you again.

Everything in politics is subject to change with the passing of time, which alters all circumstances and all people. Nothing lasts forever and no one lives forever. Smart politicians can afford to be patient if they think time is running in their favor. They suffer when time is against them and they run out of patience. That's when they do foolish things.

Today's revolution is tomorrow's stand-patter. Yesterday's wild man is today's tame man. What does this have to do with what we were talking about — the effect of time on our Johnny-Come-Lately rivals, the Russians?

To me it is plain that time is running against them. In the long pull, if they succeed in what they are trying to do, which is to make Russia as a good as the United States, they will succeed only in making Russia more like the United States and less like they thought it was going to be when they started.

In Yugoslavia, Communists who have made a special point of not hating the mark drawn by Russian Communists are becoming more like capitalists. In Russia, itself, Communists are having trouble tooting the mark drawn by Chinese Communists. Deviations are a dime a dozen in both places.

There is a fixed law in human thinking about contrary opinion. As soon as one human being tells another one how he thinks things should be, the other one says, "Yes, but..." and the fun begins. The other one becomes a deviationist.

I am not afraid of the Communist ideology; it is subject to change. I am afraid only of what Communists may do if they think they are in danger of running out of time; they may get frantic.

I do not agree that the way to cope with this is to keep from upsetting the Communists. But I have begun to feel that the best way to cope with it is to be aware of what they are up against. To survive, they must accommodate themselves to reality, and that means they must make changes in their blueprints.

Given enough time, they won't recognize the original blueprint. They will be as far from their original design as we are from ours and we had the good luck to have one that was never much more than a rough sketch to begin with. We've spent all our time since 1776 making changes. The original crowd wouldn't know the old place if they came back to it, just as the original crowd in Russia wouldn't know their old place. And they've been at it only since the end of World War I.

A static political doctrine is as impossible as an ageless human being, or a flower that stays the same. The law of contrary opinion alone makes it impossible. But added to that law is the law that time changes all things.

Every year I try to make up my mind about the probable effect of time on what we're doing. Have you noticed how it is becoming popular to be a conservative again and how stand-patters these days are the wild men of half a generation ago whose needles got stuck?

Time is changing things. It never stops. I have shown this to your aunt, who comments that it doesn't change me. She says I'm still the same wobblehead I was when she outwitted me into marrying her so she could lead the life of Mrs. Reilly. She says Mister Micawber and me will still be waiting for something to turn up after our toes have turned up. She may be right. Regards. Cotton Corners UNCLE GEORGE evidence of foul play or robbery. The wallets of the two men had not been disturbed and the lone door was locked and the windows were closed when the bodies were discovered about 1 p.m. yesterday.

Because the day had been chilly, the two men apparently had kept the windows closed Wednesday and had locked the door preparatory to retiring, the deputy coroner said.

He theorized that the son was stricken first and the father had gone to his aid when he was overcome.

Dr. Costello said the monoxide fumes would make the victim helpless and cause them to be sleepy.

When the bodies were discovered by two fellow employees of the younger Mr. Boring at the A. & P. Supermarket, where he was assistant produce manager, they were lying head-to-foot in a narrow doorway between the living room and kitchen. The son was facing the living room and the father, a retired yardmaster for the Pennsylvania Railroad at Wellsville, was facing the kitchen.

The elder Mr. Boring was sprawled partially across the left arm of his son. Both were fully clothed except for the father, who was in his stocking feet. A pair of shoes sat beside an overstuffed chair in the living room and a magazine was on the arm of the chair.

Mrs. John Mostoller of E. 4th St., wife of the minister of the First Church of Christ, told Dr. Costello she saw the two men about 8:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Table Set For Meal
Both were dressed as if they had been out, the deputy coroner continued, and neighbors said the two generally ate their evening meal in a restaurant. The father prepared breakfast, neighbors said, and the investigating officers noticed the kitchen table was set but there was no evidence the two had eaten there recently.

The two men were found by Paul Chmara of Industry R.D. 1 and Elza Adkins, 149 Pennsylvania Ave., employees of the A. & P. They had been sent to the home by Charles Schriver, manager, after the younger Mr. Boring failed to appear for work.

The son had worked until 5 p.m. Wednesday and was due back at 8 a.m. Thursday. When he failed to appear, store officials first believed he had misunderstood the schedule, but were unable to contact him because there was no phone in the building.

When he failed to report for work on the second shift at 12:30 p.m. yesterday, Schriver asked the two to check.

When Chmara and Adkins arrived at the home, they found the door was locked, but spotted the bodies through a window. They and neighbors were going to break in the door when they found the window unlocked and raised it.

Chmara said he crawled into the living room, noticed an odor and hurried to the kitchen to open the windows there. When he first saw the bodies, it was evident they had been dead for some time, Chmara said.

Police were notified at 1:05 p.m. and Capt. Pyle and Patrolmen Heddleston and McDaniel responded. Dr. Costello was summoned immediately.

During the investigation, local officials of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. joined the examination of the premises and then ordered the gas supply to the building turned off at the curb box.

Meters in Cupboards
Dr. Costello said the ground floor apartments contain two rooms and a lavatory. There also is a radiant gas heater in each apartment while separate gas meters for each side of the double house and the two unvented hot water tanks were located in small cupboards at the rear of the apartments.

The jet on the radiant gas heater in the unoccupied apartment below the Boring home was "wide open," Dr. Costello said. There was no indication why it was on without a fire.

The heater in the Germanovich apartment also was leaking and Dr. Costello said he understood Germanovich disconnected it after Mrs. Egnor, who resided above his apartment, complained of fumes.

The unvented hot water tanks were spewing noxious fumes out of the floor and they rose to the ceiling of the cupboards and easily could have penetrated through the cracks in the flooring of the old home, the deputy coroner said.

Apartment Vacated
The unoccupied apartment was vacated about two months ago by William Copstick, now believed residing in Lisbon, police said.

Mrs. Egnor told police she had complained to Mrs. Lisle 9 or 10 months ago about gas fumes and a man was sent to make a repair. She told officers, however, that a stove in the bathroom still leaked.

Mr. Boring and his son had resided in the two-floor apartment for about five years, coming here from Wellsville. Both had celebrated their birthdays within the last week.

Mr. Boring was born June 28, 1885, in Salineville, the son of the late Thomas J. and Luella Melbourne Boring. He was married to the late Clara Frost.

His son was born in Wellsville July 3, 1915. He was a member of Wellsville Masonic Lodge 180. The only immediate survivor is the elder Mr. Boring's sister, Mrs. Ella McCown of Alliance.

Double services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by John N. Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Solicitor Jack Cohen, the former chief gave mostly negative answers to questions of whether segments of previous testimony of prosecution witnesses were true. In closing arguments, Lotze's counsel, Atty. D. B. Dickson, charged the dismissal and testimony in the hearing were political moves. He said that the patrolmen who testified stood in line for personal advancement with Lotze's dismissal.

Dickson declared the testimony was a collection of "half truths and implications, constituting a shotgun barrage of minor detail."

Atty. Cohen, in closing argument, stated, "The fact remains that many of the witnesses did not stand to gain from the dismissal or hearing."

Dickson, shortly after the hearing ended, indicated an appeal would be filed in Common Pleas Court.

Last night's session was the fourth of the appeal hearings. The prosecution presented its case June 27-28, and Lotze answered with his defense Wednesday.

In a statement issued this morning, Atty. Dickson said: "We find it necessary to appeal to Common Pleas Court at Lisbon where political considerations will not be involved."

would see that the village of Columbiana has been after relief on the low underpass on State Route 164 for as many years as his group has been after the river-to-lake highway.

"You are aware that the village of Columbiana would much rather have a new underpass and bridge on Route 164 than they would a leg of Route 11 built."

"Mayor Erwood Calvin of Columbiana has worked a long time trying to obtain access to the village's industrial area for trucks. However at the suggestion of the highway department, the new underpass on Route 164 was dropped because the department felt that by building this section of State Route 11 near Columbiana it would serve as a truck access route to the industrial area of the village."

"Thus, this would save a huge amount of funds and only one project would be undertaken instead of two."

"I am sure that anyone will agree that saving money in today's high cost of building highways is something we all want to do."

"As you know, in the past three years, I have been in your department asking for projects in every community in Columbiana County except the village of Columbiana. I feel that every city and village is entitled to some project and I am sure you feel the same."

"The cities and villages of this county have always cooperated on an unselfish basis in the past in an effort to help each other obtain new highways and other projects, and I am sure they will continue to do so."

At Summer Resort

Remarks Get Tiresome

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks at a summer resort owner gets tired of hearing:
"If you ask me, it looks like rain."
"I admit the view is fine from your viewpoint, but, frankly, I expect more from a two-week vacation than just to look at the same bikini."
"I'd like to do something different for a change. Don't you have anything besides bird watching, golf, swimming, horseback riding, horseshoe pitching, movies, amateur theatricals, cocktail parties, tennis, volleyball, shuffleboard, bingo and bridge? I get so bored doing nothing."
"Better stuff some cotton in your ear, boss. Here comes Mrs. Atwater Bilge now. She's the one who found half a moth in her fruit cup."
"We've been here 10 days and haven't seen the sun once. We give up. Where are you hiding it?"

"Could you change my room, please? The man in the room next to me has a beard, and I don't like the look in his eye. No, he hasn't spoken to me—but I'm afraid he might."
"I know it's past the dinner hour, but all 10 of us got lost on the mountainside, picking blueberries, and we haven't had a bite to eat since."
"Could I get my husband in under the children's rate? He's been acting awfully childish ever since we started this trip."
"Let's don't stop here, Ralph. The resort down the road is 50 cents a day cheaper."
"How did you ever get into the resort business anyway? Just unlucky?"
"Sir, where do I report a Peeping Tom?"
"The travel agent told me this place would be crawling with eligible men, but the only thing the men I've seen here are eligible for is an old-age pension."

"Hey, boss, that married dame whose husband got called back to the city has climbed up on a table in the cocktail lounge again and is showing how to do yoga exercises. What'll I do with her this time?"
"If you carry out the bags yourself, Logan, you won't have to tip the boy at all. Let his father send him through college; it's not your responsibility."
"No, we're not staying. We just want to use your washroom. Our guidebook gives it a three-star rating."
"If this resort gave rainchecks, we'd all go home millionaires."
"Look! Is that the sun coming out at last—or just another mirage?"

English Reports On Kiwanis Trip

Reports on the Kiwanis International convention at Toronto, Canada, this week were presented by H. Jud English, president of the East Liverpool club, and three others at a meeting Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.
English, along with Alex Kidd, Merrill Hall and Roy Cooper, attended the final day's session and received credit for three interclub sessions during the trip.
English said there were some 18,000 Kiwanians and wives at the 46th annual event. The next convention will be at Denver.
Named a committee for the annual club stag picnic in August were Dr. Arthur Turner, Phil Irwin, Lee Blumenthal and Ira Burdick.
Appointed as a nominating committee were Eugene Hall, Ralph Betts and Harold Allison.
Art Turner, Key Club member, was among the guests.

Patrol Duties Outlined By County's Auxiliary

State Highway Patrolman E. D. Wain led a discussion on duties of auxiliary patrolmen at a meeting of the Columbiana County Highway Patrol Auxiliary Wednesday night at the Lisbon barracks.
Plans were made for a farewell party for Sgt. John Miller, recently transferred from the Lisbon post to Springfield. The event will be held July 14.
The annual auxiliary picnic for members and families will be held Aug. 26 at the East Palestine City Park.
Capt. William Schaffer of Salem was in charge.

3 Oklahoma Eating Places Lift Race Bars

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Three downtown Oklahoma City eating establishments are now serving Negroes after fighting off integration demonstrations for almost a year.
The change in policy was announced Thursday by Harvey P. Everest, chairman of the governor's committee on human relations.
Everest said lunch counters at a department store and variety store and a cafeteria have given integrated service on an experimental basis for about two weeks and the policy is being continued.

Calcutta Man Seeks $35,000 In Civil Case

A Calcutta area man has filed two suits totaling $35,000 in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon against a neighbor, claiming threat of bodily harm and defamation of character as a result of an incident Monday night.
Emil Dominick of R. D. 2 filed suit for $20,000 for threat of bodily harm and $15,000 for character defamation against Aaron Hall of R. D. 2.
Dominick claims he was at work on shrubbery at his home Monday night at 9:15 when Hall walked into his yard from his adjacent home and called him a number of names and threatened "to get him if it took 10 years." Dominick says he became ill as a reaction, and also claims the names damaged his reputation with other neighbors.

Homesites At $1 Each, But String Attached

ESTANCIA, N.M. (AP)—Five homesites here have gone on the sale block for $1 each.
But, there is a string attached. Each buyer must agree to build a home no smaller than 1,000 square feet in living space within 24 months after the site has been bought.
If the buyer fails to do so, the title reverts back to the seller, the Estancia Development Corp.
The corporation, headed by State Sen. Earl Parker, made the offer in hopes it will give Estancia's sagging economy a boost.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Queries About Death Present Problem

The child under five or six knows that pets and other non-human creatures die. If it's his pet that dies he may suffer from its loss, from his loneliness without it, but his emotions over it may be only fleeting. He may notice that adults and older children may express little or no emotion over the creature's death and accept it as a matter of fact. But when it's a member of the family or a playmate or some other person known by the youngster, he may hear much talk about the deceased, some of it laden with expressions of grief.

WHAT HE HEARS may stir up all sorts of questions in his mind. Usually, his questions are aroused by the death of some specific person, and not about death in general.

How you are going to answer his questions will depend on your personal philosophy of life and death and also on your consideration of how your answers will affect the child, his emotions and peace of mind. It's well to discuss the matter with your spiritual counselor — rabbi, priest or minister; sometimes with an expert on child development and guidance.

It may be easy to say "God took him," or "He went to sleep." But to a child under six or seven such statements may cause him to fear to go to sleep or to hate a God who snatches away a loved person or a pet.

AT SIX OR seven, the child may begin to worry about the possibility of his mother or father dying but feel no concern that he himself might die.

He may begin to accept the fact that a death occurred because not enough was known and done about the control of disease or prevention of accidents.

He can understand that when a person grows old his body wears out and old to a child under six or eight may, fortunately, mean over 30 or 40. Can you remember when your parents didn't seem old to you?

The kindest thing we can do for the bereft child and ourselves is to avoid long expression of sorrow in his presence, and often recall with him the happy memories of the departed loved one.

WE NEED, moreover, to provide him with abundant love at home and from as many other persons as possible and help him to cultivate wide, strong, wholesome interests and to enjoy achievements in his work and play.

Injured City Seaman Awaits Hospital Move

Seaman Appr. David Goodballet, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Goodballet, 1113 St. George St., still is recuperating at a hospital at Bedford, Pa., with injuries suffered in an auto crash Sunday afternoon just off the Pennsylvania Turnpike at Bedford.

His parents said he is awaiting transfer to the Naval Hospital at Philadelphia, where he will undergo a routine check before being sent back to his station at Dam Nick, Va.

Four other Navy men in the car also were hospitalized. Mrs. Goodballet said her son was thrown through the windshield while the others were just jarred around. Goodballet suffered a fractured nose and superficial lacerations, contusion and abrasions of the face.

All were returning to the Virginia base after spending leaves at home. The other four men are from the Columbus area.

City Motorist Fined, Jailed

An East Liverpool driver arrested Thursday on three traffic charges filed by Hancock County sheriff's deputies after a crash near Chester was fined a total of $210 and costs and given 50 days in jail at a hearing Thursday night.

Frank Milton Duncan, 25, of 1235 St. George St., pleaded guilty before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland on charges of driving while intoxicated, leaving the scene of an accident and driving with improper registration.

Squire Herron fined him $100 and costs or 30 days in jail for drunk driving, $100 and costs or 10 days for leaving the scene, and $10 and costs or 10 days for driving with improper license plates.

Deputies said an auto driven by Duncan overturned and was demolished along Fairview Rd. near Chester at 3:30 a.m. Thursday.

A passenger, Russell Gamble, 31, of Pasadena, Calif., was injured. He is in "fairly good" condition today in City Hospital with bruises and contusions.

Deputies at New Cumberland said their investigation definitely established that the California man was a passenger in Duncan's 1953 model sedan, confirming earlier reports.

Duncan was jailed in default of fines, the squire said.

In Hookstown Ceremonies

Grange Honors Young Members

Several members of the Hookstown Juvenile Grange were honored at a meeting Thursday night during the adult Grange program in the Grange Hall.

Left to right are Peggy Sloppy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sloppy of Aliquippa R. D. 1; Marilyn Soisson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Soisson of Georgetown R.D. 1; John Searight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Searight of Hookstown; Mrs. Marie Elliott, also of Hookstown, lecturer, Aida Swearingen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Swearingen, and Susan Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin P. Walker, both of Shippingport.

Mrs. Elliott presented Miss Soisson with a $3 check for winning first place in a Hookstown Grange contest, part of the National Grange's highway safety essay contest in June. She was third in the state contest and received a $5 award.

Miss Swearingen was selected by the Beaver County Pomona Grange to attend the state Grange camp, Camp Kanestake, at Spruce Creek, Pa., near University Park, July 24-30.

The Hookstown grange also will send John Searight, Miss Walker and Linda Faye Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Fox of Greene Township to the state camp. All four won their trips for high scores on a Juvenile Grange test taken recently at a camp at Raccoon Creek State Park.

Miss Sloppy was winner of the Pomona Grange's sewing contest for girls 15-17.

Reports were given on the Pennsylvania state leader's conference attended last week by Mrs. Charles Hartzell, juvenile matron, Mrs. Carl Soisson, home economics chairman, and Mrs. Elliott.

Guests were Henry Smith of Aliquippa, state deputy, and his wife, the state juvenile deputy for Beaver County, Charles Stewart, master, presided. Next meeting will be July 20.

Cited Driver Will Sell Auto

"That's the best news I've heard today," Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff told a Sprucevale youth today in Municipal Court when the driver said he planned to sell his car after being cited early this morning on two counts alleging his car failed to have the proper equipment.

Clyde Davis told the judge he plans to sell the auto after pleading guilty to charges of operating his car with an illegal muffler and failing to have a light illuminating his license plate. He was cited at 2:47 a. m. today on E. 5th St.

Suspending fines of $10 and costs on each charge, Judge Chertoff warned the youth he might face a more serious charge if he fails to dispose of the car.

Two other young drivers cited on the holiday drew $25 fines each which were suspended on payment of costs at hearings continued from Wednesday.

Sali Jafarace of Weirton received the suspended fine after he told the court, and police agreed, that he had purchased new 1961 West Virginia plates for his car. Jafarace was cited Tuesday afternoon on Harvey Ave.

Joseph W. Sine, 847 Grandview Ave., received a similar penalty after showing court the proper registration for his auto. He was cited Thursday morning on Walnut St.

A hearing for Allan Lee Timmons of 7th Ave., LaCrosse, cited Thursday night for speeding 50 miles an hour on W. 8th St., was continued until 9 a. m. Monday when Timmons entered a "no contest" plea. His bond of $32.50 was continued.

Meanwhile, court officials still are awaiting the appearance of Blaine Butcher of Chester R. D. 1 on a charge of crashing a stop sign at W. 3rd and Jackson Sts. early Thursday morning. Butcher was released for a hearing at 9

a. m. yesterday but failed to appear.

Mayors Seek Plans Unit

The Columbiana County Mayors Association Thursday night unanimously agreed to petition the County Commissioners to create a county planning commission.

It was reported that majority of communities with planning groups can petition the commissioners to form a county group. The group met at Lisbon.

The mayors said state statistics show that the lack of a planning group for a county is a deterrent for the movement of new industry into a county.

Solicitor Jack Kuhlman of Columbiana was speaker.

Dale McCormick, Leetonia councilman, and Don Weikart of the Washingtonville Board of Public Affairs were guests.

Mayor Ralph Kennedy of Leetonia, president, was in charge. Other mayors present were Dean Stockman of Lisbon, Dean Cranmer of Salem, Erwood Calvin of Columbiana, William Ferguson of New Waterford, Don Vignon of Washingtonville, Ernest Phillips of Summitville and Kenneth Leishman of Sainneville.

The mayors will meet Thursday, Aug. 3, at Salem.

Firemen In Chester To Back Drum Corps

Chester volunteer firemen Thursday night agreed to sponsor the Chester Drum and Bugle Corps, a group of Chester and Newell youths who have reorganized the former Newell Drum and Bugle Corps.

The group will march under the sponsorship of the firemen, who plan to provide aid for uniforms and equipment.

Further plans were made for the annual firemen's fair to be held July 24-29. A special meeting will be held July 20 to complete plans.

Fire Chief William Glover presided.

Earth Slide Removed From Wellsville Road

Three lanes of the East Liverpool-Wellsville "super road" were blocked early today by a rock slide.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said three lanes were blocked at first by the slide, which was reported at 6 a. m. The Ohio Highway Department crews had the debris cleared away by 8 a.m. it was reported.

The slide damaged a section of pavement. Dynamite was used to remove a large rock. The slide was about a quarter mile west of Shadyside Ave., affecting mostly the westbound lanes.

Mr., Mrs. Donald R. Sage Return After Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Sage, newlyweds, are residing in a newly-furnished apartment on W. 3rd St. following a honeymoon at Niagara Falls.

The bride is the former Miss Donna Lee Barrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Barrett of the Old Fredericktown Rd., and her husband is the son of Mrs. Ruby Sage of Lawrenceville.

The double ring ceremony was performed June 10 at 2:30 o'clock in the Chester Church of Christ with Albert Shroades, pastor of the Fairview Church of Christ, an uncle of the bridegroom, officiating. Palms and ferns were used for decorations.

A quarter-hour of vocal music was presented by Mr. and Mrs. John Clovis and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Plum.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her grandfather, William C. Joy.

She wore a ballerina length gown of nylon lace styled with pleated net inserts in front of the bouffant skirt. The fitted bodice featured a square scalloped neckline and long pointed sleeves and a butterfly bow accented the waistline in the back. She wore three strands of pearls with earrings to match, a gift of the bridegroom.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was fitted to a half hat of chiffon petals tipped in pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses accented with ivy and lilies of the valley tied with satin streamers. All traditions were observed, including a sixpence in her shoe presented by the bridegroom. She also carried a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Molly Joy.

For traveling, the bride chose a beige sheath jacket dress with green accessories and her bridal orchids.

Mrs. Bonnie Ryan was matron of honor and Miss Glenna Cowdery, cousin of the bride, and Miss Sharon Smith were bridesmaids. They wore lemon yellow cotton blind jacket dresses, fashioned with scooped necklines, pleated cummerbunds and full skirts. The short jackets were chiffon over lace with three-quarter length sleeves. They wore matching Dior bows in their hair which featured theatre veils. Their bouquets were arrangements of white carnations and yellow roses with white streamers.

Ellen Shroades, cousin of the Commissioners Vote Allowance To Csepke

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners, meeting Thursday, approved a travel allowance for Cornelius Csepke, juvenile proba-tion officer, to take a 13-year-old Salem boy to Boys Industrial School at Lancaster today.

Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin said he ordered the boy commit-ted after a series of offenses and on the State Diagnostic Center's recommendation that the boy be placed under rigid discipline.

Commissioners yesterday receiv-ed the monthly report of E. E. Patzsch, superintendent of Kyes Memorial Children's Receiving home at East Palestine.

He reported the home took care of 19 children — 12 girls and 7 boys — last month. They ranged in age from 18 months to 18 years. The home served 650 regular meals, 218 bedtime meals and provided 221 days of care.

Novelist Dies At 88

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Enrique Larreta, 88, well-known Argentine novelist and his-torian, died Thursday.

Ursula A. Walker Marries In Chapel At Ft. Riley, Kan.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew H. Walk-er of Calcutta have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ursula Anne Walker, to Sp. 4C Harvey M. Simons June 11 at 3 o'clock in the Main Post Chapel at Ft. Riley, Kan.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Maj. E. W. Kars-ten, chaplain, in the presence of officers and friends of the cou-ple.

Mrs. Richard Lamb of Ft. Ri-ley sang "Whither Thou Goest" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" during the rites.

Pvt. Allan J. Willis was organist. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white bal-lerina gown of French imported lace and pure silk organza. It featured a lace basque bodice and bateau neckline encrusted with iridescent sequins and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt of pure silk organza fea-tured a scalloped wide row of hand - clipped French imported lace, ending in a flowing hem-line. The headdress of shoulder length net trimmed with lace was held in place by a crown of white satin trimmed with lace.

For something old, the bride wore a gold bracelet which was given to her maternal grand-mother, Mrs. John B. Rinick of Som-erset, Pa., 54 years ago by her late grandfather before their marriage. She carried a bridal arrangement of white stock and ribbons.

Sp. 4C Jackolyn Brundige of Lansing, Mich., was maid of hon-or. She wore a blue chiffon bal-lerina length dress and a small white shell hat trimmed with white felt bows. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of stock, dyed to match her gown.

Bridesmaid was Sp. 4C Alphil-d Aoyagi of Captain Cook, Hawaii. She wore a pink chiffon ballerina length dress and a small white shell hat trimmed with white felt bows. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of stock dyed to match her ensemble.

The bride's mother was attired in a blue-flowered print dress with a small white straw hat and the bridegroom's mother wore a blue dress and small net hat. Both wore corsages of white car-nations.

The bride's gift to her attend-ants were silver identification bracelets on which was inscribed the names of the bridal cou-ple and the wedding date.

Best man was the bridegroom's father, the Rev. Joseph Simons of Columbus. Sgt. Morris Snive-ly of Ft. Riley, uncle of the bride-groom, was usher.

An honor guard of eight mili-tary police, friends of the cou-ple, formed an arch outside the chapel after the ceremony.

A reception was held in the Non - commissioned Officers Club by the WAC officers. Sgt. Peggy Donovan was in charge. A two-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple, centered the table. Sp. 4C Nancy Peterson took care of the guest book.

The bride, a 1958 graduate of East Liverpool High School, is secretary in the Chiefs of Staff office at Ft. Riley. The day be-fore her marriage she was pro-moted to sergeant. Her husband is a graduate of Groveport (Ohio) High School. He has served 18 months in Korea and four months in Japan.

The newlyweds are residing in a newly-furnished apartment at Junction City, Kan.

Attending the wedding besides her parents were her brother, An-drew H. Walker Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Simons and children, Lea, Charlotte, Margaret, John, Steve and Becky, all of Colum-bus.

New Church Site To Cost $22,000

NEW CUMBERLAND — The Di-ocese of Wheeling has purchased for $22,000 the old Garlick home-stead on Ridge Ave. as the site for a new church for Immaculate Conception Catholic Parish.

The homestead is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Garlick. They retained the right to occupy the property for another year.

The two story frame is located on a plot of land 160-x-220 feet. No plans have been made for remodeling.

The present parish church and rector are located on N. Chester St. The Rev. Fr. Innocent J. Kon-nik is pastor. There are about 118 families in the parish.

The Angel Falls in Venezuela are the highest waterfalls in the world. The waters pour down from a height of 3,300 feet.

Socialite Claimed

RINDGE, N.H. (AP)— James Amory Sullivan, 88, socialite, ar-tist, architect and descendant of an American revolutionary gener-al, died Thursday.

The first nonstop transatlantic jet airplane flight took place on Sept. 22, 1950, when Col. David C. Schilling of the U. S. Air Force flew 3,300 miles from England to Limestone, Maine, in 10 hours, one minute.

Rig Makes Turn And Strikes Car

Stopped to seek directions, a Beaver Falls man saw his car damaged heavily by a turning tractor-trailer Thursday afternoon at Dresden Ave. and Webber Way.

Paul W. Glover, 57, said he was headed south and halted on Dresden Ave. near the intersection with Webber Way to ask directions, police reported.

The tractor-trailer operated by Clyde Edward Breyman, 46, of Tiffin had halted for the traffic signal and started to make a right turn with the right rear trailer wheel striking the left side of Glover's 1960 auto, police were told.

There was heavy damage to the left front of the Glover sedan but none to the semi outfit, police added.

Minor damage was caused to the 1955 sedans of two Vine St. residents Thursday night at 8, police said.

A. L. Eaton, 67, of 435 Vine St. was attempted to back out of a parking place when his car scratched the parked sedan of Elmer Kendal, rear 901 Vine St., officers said.

Christians in Africa now number 44 million, or about 20 percent of the total population.

Deaths and Funerals

Earl T. Ewing Claimed At 70

Earl Thomas Ewing of Painesville, former postmaster in Wellsville, died of a heart attack Thursday afternoon at his home. He was 70.

He was born in Wellsville March 18, 1891, and left in 1955 to make his home in Painesville.

At one time he operated a real estate and insurance establishment on Main St., Wellsville. He served as postmaster in the 1940's. He was a member of the Wellsville Elks lodge and the Painesville First Presbyterian Church.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Elise Ewing; a daughter, Miss Cynthia Schneider, all at home; a sister, Miss Martha Ewing of Wellsville; a brother, Walter Ewing of Lisbon, and several nephews and nieces.

Services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the Nixon Funeral Home in Painesville by the Rev. John C. Little of Canfield. Burial will be in Painesville.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9. An Elks Lodge service will be held at 8 tonight.

$40,180 Seen Low Offer In Line Project

EAST PALESTINE — A low bid of $40,180 was among three opened by the board of control Thursday for a planned construction of a two-mile "high line" linking the city power plant with a new substation in the east part of the city.

Gustav Hirsch Organizations, Inc., of Pittsburgh submitted the low bid for the project, part of a major improvement at the power plant.

Other bidders were Atlas Electrical Construction Co. of Elyria, $40,273, and the Carlson Electric Co. of Youngstown, $46,609.

The board is studying the bids further.

Also being reviewed by the board is the sole bid of $6.60 a ton for street surfacing material received Tuesday from the Asphalt Products Co. of Lowellville. The firm supplied the materials to the city last year at $6.45 a ton.

Neighbors Help In Quelling Fire

Quick action by neighbors prevented a serious fire in a home on John St. at the intersection with former Chestnut St. this morning, firemen said.

Asst. Chief David Anderson said he was notified by the neighbors at 10:35 a.m. after they extinguished the fire in the basement of the home owned by Robert Boley, 1912 Chester Ave., Wellsville.

Neighbors said the papers were ignited by youngsters but Anderson said he was unable to locate those responsible.

Meanwhile, firemen were called at 11:10 a.m. to extinguish a fire around the rear wheel of a Inter-State System tractor-trailer headed south at Dresden Ave. and W. 9th St.

One American In four has this disease

Physicians call it obesity, but it's just as unhealthy if we call it pounds—too many pounds. In some places a chief cause of early death is malnutrition but in this country the Grim Reaper's number one helper is overeating. Overweight people subject their heart and blood vessels to undue stresses and strains. Every ounce of excess flesh is a menace to health. Which is why so many of us diet today. And those of us who are wise see a physician first. We, as professional pharmacists, know how effective a doctor's advice can be.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My wife is expecting her first baby in about four months. She's 21, in excellent health and everything seems to be going along fine.

The problem is her mother. She's scaring my wife to death with horror stories about labor pains and has just about talked her into having a Caesarian operation instead of natural birth.

I haven't said anything yet but I'm ready to tell my mother-in-law to keep her mouth closed. Would I be justified? How can I undo the damage already done? Please answer in your column.

Dear No Man's Land: Stop worrying. A Caesarian is a major operation and the doctor isn't going to agree to it unless there's a good medical reason.

Tip the doctor off so he can give your wife the reassurance she needs. The anesthetics available today, as well as the natural methods without use of anesthesia, have made childbirth much easier. Your mother-in-law is a generation behind.

Office Prima Donna

Dear Ann: This letter is being written by five office girls. It's the sixth girl who needs advice but she doesn't know it.

Miss X started here four months ago. She wears satin, lace, mariou feathers and what have you to work. We think she must be shortening someone's old formal gowns. These creations were never intended for afternoon wear.

Sometimes she wears mesh hose with backless slippers. The poor kid looks like she's headed for a costume party.

She's a very sweet girl from a small town and probably doesn't know better. Shall we form a committee and tell her?—WE MEAN WELL.

Dear Mean Well: This is a job that can be done best by the most tactful (and probably the oldest) girl in the office. It would be nice if that person offered to help her select some business-type clothes.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

AMC To Play Active Role In Pact Talks

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. appeared ready today to play an aggressive role in labor contract negotiations in the auto industry this summer.

The company proposed a "fresh new approach" at the opening of its collective bargaining talks with the United Auto Workers Union Thursday.

At the start of negotiations with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler last week, UAW President Walter P. Reuther urged the breaking of new ground to provide job security and more jobs for auto workers. He suggested Thursday that AMC because of its success in making compact cars could set a pattern for the Big Three.

Unexpectedly, AMC Vice President Edward L. Cushman came up at once with a set of bargaining goals.

Cushman proposed a permanent recognition of the union with specific conditions of the new contract subject to change as changing conditions require.

Cushman said AMC was proposing a company-union conference to discuss—away from the bargaining table—mutual problems, philosophies, needs and common responsibilities to the community.

Reuther said the union would study the AMC suggestions.

Simple Rites Mark Burial Of Hemingway

KETCHUM, Idaho (AP)— Ernest Hemingway, one of America's greatest writers, has been buried in the peaceful valley of this southern Idaho mountain community where he loved to live, to rest, to write, to hunt.

The grave is unmarked.

Simple graveside rites were held in the public cemetery on Thursday, attended only by members of the family and some close friends.

The Nobel prize winning author of "A Farewell to Arms," "The Sun Also Rises" and "For Whom the Bell Tolls," among others, was killed by a shotgun blast at his home here last Sunday. His death was ruled self-inflicted but no determination was made as to whether it was accidental or on purpose.

Brain Surgery Failed To End Criminal Life

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)— Doctors had hoped brain surgery would end the criminal life of a former Army officer injured in Korean War combat.

Victor Hungerford, 40, once a major decorated for bravery, was held for bad check charges in 1959. Physicians theorized that Hungerford's criminal behavior stemmed from the injuries. He was paroled in April 1960 following the operation.

Thursday Hungerford was returned to state custody. He was held in San Francisco—on bad check charges.

Senator Eyes Doctors' Aid On Drug Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., indicated today he hopes to draw support for his drug control bill from individual doctors.

The American Medical Association has taken a stand against many features of the bill.

Hearings on it by Kefauver's Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee recessed Thursday after two days of testimony from AMA witnesses. The hearings will resume July 18 with testimony from individual physicians.

Kefauver and his staff indicated they hope many of the witnesses, including noted members of some medical school faculties, will endorse all or most of his program.

The bill would place the drug manufacturing industry under strict new federal controls and policing.

The AMA opposed provisions to require federal testing of the effectiveness of drugs before they are sold to the public and placing in government hands the naming of new drugs and the policing of all advertising of drug preparations in medical journals.

The AMA has taken no stand on one of the bill's chief aims—to bring down prices of prescription medicine by amending the antitrust laws to force more competition among the big drug firms.

Allen Blasting Out Of Slump . . .

BERNIE ALLEN, the East Liverpool product who was having his troubles at the plate with Charlotte of the Sally League, came blasting out of his slump.

He drove in his team's lone run with a single in Monday's 2-1 loss to Portsmouth, doubled home a run in Tuesday's game and Wednesday night pounded out a double and single in three trips to the plate. In Wednesday's game, he just missed his first professional home run when the ball hit the top of the rightfield screen in the Charlotte ball park.

Bernie's fielding also has been improving.

A story on Charlotte's 2-1 loss to Portsmouth Monday carried the following: "A Ladies Night turnout of 1,118 was treated to several eye-popping defensive plays. Bernie Allen, the Bees' second

McKinley Crushed By Laver

Stop Giants, 3-2; Bucs, Cubs Split

Australian Is Too Much For U.S. Star

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Rod Laver of Australia crushed Charles (Chuck) McKinley of St. Louis today 6-3, 6-1, 6-4 for the men's singles title in the Wimbledon Tennis Championships.

The 20-year-old American, a sophomore at Trinity University in San Antonio, Tex., was no match for the bandy-legged, left-handed Australian, who will be 22 next month.

McKinley, eighth-seeded, started the match with bounce and confidence but his dash was soon dulled by the brilliant shot-making of the little Australian.

Laver gave one of the finest exhibitions ever seen on the center court.

He had his high-kicking service smashing into the corners. He attacked so relentlessly that McKinley was thrown completely off his timing.

Before the match, McKinley said he thought he could win. "Before this tournament began, I said that with a bit of luck I could win it," McKinley said. "The luck's run my way, and I am back at my peak form and playing just as well as before that business in Australia."

"That business" was an incident in a Davis Cup match against Italy in which McKinley angrily threw his racket. As a result, he was suspended by the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association right up to the time he left home for England last month.

The women's title is certain to go to a British player for the first time in 24 years. Two English girls, Christine Truman and Angela Mortimer, Thursday crushed the hopes of South Africa in the semifinals.

The women's final, along with the finals of the three doubles events, are scheduled for Saturday.

2-Hit Hurling By Chetwynd Stops Littens

Dave Chetwynd pitched a neat two-hitter and struckout 10 batters along the way to give Woodbine a 17-1 victory over Littens Thursday in the Pony League.

Chetwynd was backed by a solid 20-hit attack featured by Horger's grand slam home run. Horger also had a perfect night at the plate with four hits in the same number of trips to the plate. Chema and Denny Burke also had three safeties each.

Chetwynd helped his own cause with three singles.

Jim Johnson was the losing pitcher giving up 12 of the 17 runs.

Browns Acquire Signal Caller

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Quarterback John Roach, obtained by the Cleveland Browns in a trade with the St. Louis Cardinals, was on the field and throwing passes here Thursday, less than 24 hours after he learned of the trade.

"The other passers are up at a meeting," coach Paul Brown told Roach when he reported at the Browns' quarterback school. "Take your coat off and throw a few passes. We're working on some patterns."

The trade, which sent halfback Prentice Gautt and Tax Anderson, a rookie end from Georgia Tech, to the Cardinals, could touch off some further swapping.

The Browns opened their three-day quarterback school Thursday with three experienced quarterbacks. Milt Plum rates as No. 1, but Len Dawson, slated to be his understudy, could become expendable with the acquisition of Roach.

Bucs Forget To Save Runs

Clemente Belts 7-For-9, Raises Average To .351

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Roberto Clemente is swinging a hot bat, but the Pittsburgh Pirates continue to play lukewarm baseball.

Clemente had seven hits in nine times at bat Thursday in a doubleheader against the Cubs in Chicago, but the best the Pirates could do was split.

The Bucs unleashed a 20-hit barrage in the first game and coasted to a 15-3 victory. They lost the nightcap 5-1.

Clemente collected three singles, a double and his 12th home run of the season in the opener and drove in five runs. He picked up two singles in the nightcap.

The hitting binge lifted Clemente's batting average to .351, second best in the National League. The Cubs' George Altman leads with a .356 average.

Dick Stuart had four straight hits for the Pirates in the first game and batted in two runs. Johnny Logan and Hal Smith also drove in two runs each.

The victory was credited to Bob Friend, who now has a 9-9 mark. The Bucs' lone run off Glen Hobbie in the nightcap was Dick Groat's fifth homer of the year. Vinegar Bend Mizell, now 4-7, got the loss.

Pittsburgh has dropped three of four games on the current road trip.

Meanwhile, a scheduled examination of Vernon Law's ailing pitching arm was postponed until today. Law was sent to Pittsburgh from Chicago Wednesday for the tests. The outcome will determine if Law will be put on the disabled list.

The Pirates open a three-game series with the Braves here tonight.

Harvey Haddix (6-3) will pitch for the Pirates against Tony Cloninger (1-2).

Indians In Tailspin

Paul Has No Intentions Of Firing Tribe Skipper

CLEVELAND (AP) — How do you stop a tailspin, such as that Cleveland is experiencing? The Indians have lost 19 of 27 games and have plummeted from a 1 1/2-game lead in the American League on June 12 to 7 1/2 games behind front-running Detroit.

The traditional "cure" is to fire the manager. But General Manager Gabe Paul, who watched the Indians bow to New York 4-0 in Yankee Stadium Thursday night, said he has no intention of getting rid of pilot Jimmie Dykes.

"It isn't the manager's fault when the club just stops hitting," Paul said. "You can't blame him for the players not getting any hits. Injuries to Jim Piersall and Woodie Held have hurt—both were hitting well."

Then came the vote of confidence. "I have no intention of firing Dykes," Paul said.

Cleveland hasn't scored a run in 23 innings, and has only one tally to its credit in its last 36 innings while losing four in a row.

Bill Stafford did the job for the Yanks Thursday night with a two-hitter in the Tribe's final game on an eastern swing which produced three victories in Boston and four losses to Baltimore and the Yanks.

The two hits Cleveland got were of the scratch variety—a bloop double by Willie Kirkland and an infield single by Mike de la Hoz.

"He pitched a no-hitter if you want to be honest about it," said Dykes.

New York's 22-year-old right-hander didn't walk a man and pitched to only 28 batters, one over the minimum. Stafford ran his record to 7-4, while Dick Stigman, the starter and loser, was tagged with his second defeat in four decisions.

Stafford and Stigman were hooked up in a good pitching duel for four innings. Each had permitted only one hit. Then Elston Howard picked on Stigman's first toss in the fifth frame and smacked it into the lower left field stands. That was enough for Stafford, but the Yanks added two more in that inning and sent Stigman to the showers.

Bill Skowron doubled. A walk and a single by Stafford produced one more run. Bobby Richardson's sacrifice fly, on which Don Dillard made a shoestring catch in short center, brought home the third run.

Howard homered again—in the sixth inning off Bob Allen.

The Indians go back to the firing line tonight with its most successful hurler—Barry Latman (7-0)—facing the Chicago White Sox and Ray Herbert (6-7).

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds, who open a four-game series against second-place Los Angeles tonight, won their sixth in a row and kept a three-game lead in the National League by beating San Francisco 3-2 Thursday.

The Dodgers thumped St. Louis 10-1, ruining Johnny Keane's managerial debut with the Cards as a successor to Solly Hemus.

Pittsburgh split a doubleheader at Chicago, breezing 15-3 before the Cubs bounced back for a 5-1 decision. Milwaukee wrapped up a three-game sweep against last place Philadelphia with a 7-6 victory.

The Dodgers collected a dozen hits, all but two of them singles, and five unearned runs against the Cards, turning a 2-0 lead into a rout with a seven-run third inning against loser Bob Miller (1-3) and reliever Maury McDermott. Right-hander Don Drysdale won his second this month with a five-hitter.

The Reds jumped 7 1/2 games in front of the third place Giants by tagging relief ace Stu Miller for a decisive, seventh-inning run on Frank Robinson's triple and a single by Gus Bell. Southpaw Jim O'Toole (7-7), winless in his last four starts, shut out the Giants on three hits until the seventh inning. Juan Marichal (6-6) was the loser.

Roberto Clemente drove in five runs with five hits, one a two-run homer in the opener for the Pirates, then added two hits in the nightcap to boost his average to .351. Bob Friend (9-9) was the first-game winner. Dick Ellsworth (3-6) lost it.

The Cubs nailed the second one with a four-run second inning beating Wilmer Mizell (4-7). Glen Hobbie (6-9) was the winner.

Milwaukee blew 3-0 and 5-2 leads, then came from behind against the Phils and losing reliever Don Ferrarese (1-5) with two runs in the seventh inning. Johnny Antonelli, 0-4 in the American League with Cleveland, won it in relief by facing just one man in his return to the NL. Don McMahon saved it with two perfect innings of relief.

8 Players Are Involved In Pro Football Trade

By The Associated Press

Player swapping in the National Football League moved into the mid-summer sports spotlight in a big way today after the New York Giants plucked two prize plums from the Washington Redskins in a three-team deal also involving the Dallas Cowboys.

In all, the Giants-Redskins-Cowboys deal involved eight players, the big trade bringing ends Jim Podoley and Joe Walton to New York from Washington.

At the same time, the Cleveland Browns announced acquisition of quarterback John Roach from St. Louis in a player exchange that sent halfback Prentice Gautt and rookie end Tax Anderson to the Cardinals.

Podoley, 28, starred at Central Michigan. He played four years with the Redskins, grabbing 78 passes for 1,461 yards and 11 touchdowns.

Walton, 25, and a former Pittsburgh star, pulled in 83 passes for 1,302 yards and 11 touchdowns with the Redskins.

To obtain the pair, the Giants dealt Washington placekicker specialist John Aveni, rookie end Jerry Daniels of Mississippi and defensive halfback Dave Whitsell.

Tag Day Set At Wellsville

The Wellsville Minor League will hold a Tag Day sale Saturday from 9 a. m. to noon.

The boys will meet at the Daw Junior High School in uniform.

New officers have been elected for the year. They include Virgil Kornbau, second term as president; Bob Seigler, vice president; Mrs. Jo Ann Kornbau, secretary; Mrs. Betty Siers, treasurer, and Mrs. Ruth Campbell, publicity.

The sponsors and managers are Bell's Market, Bill Skeens; Central Federal Savings & Loan Association, Richard Payne; Leans Barbershop, Chal Headley, and Heiney's Plumbing, Ralph McClain.

Howard homered again—in the sixth inning off Bob Allen.

The Indians go back to the firing line tonight with its most successful hurler—Barry Latman (7-0)—facing the Chicago White Sox and Ray Herbert (6-7).

THE OTHER DAY

We heard about a survey conducted a few years ago for the purpose of finding out what made successful people tick. It seems that the circus mistakes one must find to get on the road to prosperity are first of all the filling of a need.

Secondly, the person who wishes to fill that need must be well prepared personally, and with proper facilities to fill the bill better than average. The survey showed that inevitably those who are only average in ambition and ability can expect, at best, only average results. The successful person, at the time when he was only average in the above qualities, had the ambition and the patience to work and wait until he rose above the averages, before aiming at the final pinnacle.

Other than these generalities, it was found that there was only one thing that every successful person had in common with all other successful people. Perhaps this one thing is so great a factor (as indicated by the survey) that it overcomes any deficiencies in the other above qualities. That one thing was a goal of serving others as a prime aim, and individual gain came only as a by-product of that serving of others.

This latter principle certainly sums up our own attitude in business.

Yanks Pitching Clicks Again; Tigers Still 1/2 In Front

Stafford Blanks Tribe Again, 4-0

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees remained within a half-game of first-place Detroit in the American League by beating Cleveland 4-0 Thursday night behind the near-perfect, two-hit pitching of right-hander Bill Stafford. It was the Yanks' second shutout success over the Indians in two days.

Detroit stayed one percentage point ahead of New York after winning 3-0 at Boston, on the eight-hit pitching of Phil Regan and Terry Fox. Baltimore missed a chance to snatch third place from Cleveland when the Orioles were beaten 1-0 at Washington by Dick Donovan's four-hitter. The Chicago White Sox defeated Kansas City 4-3, with Early Wynn gaining his 29th career victory, and the Los Angeles Angels replaced Minnesota in eighth place by beating the Twins 12-11.

Stafford (7-4), a poised 6-foot-1 sophomore from Catskill, N.Y., allowed only two base runners while nailing his second shutout in the majors. He struck out three, walked none and retired 20 in a row between Willie Kirkland's ground rule double in the second inning and a leadoff single by Mike de la Hoz in the ninth.

Elston Howard belted a pair of solo homers for the Yankees, with the first leading off a three-run fifth inning that beat Dick Stigman (2-2).

Rocky Colavito's sacrifice fly in the first inning gave Detroit the run it needed against Boston's Galen Cisco (1-3). Pete Runnels had half of the Red Sox' hits, all off Regan (8-4), who needed relief from Fox for the final out.

Donovan (4-8), named to the All-Star squad by Manager Paul Richards of the Orioles, struck out seven and didn't walk a man while beating Baltimore for the sixth straight time since August, 1958. The Senators beat reliever Hoyt Wilhelm (6-4) on consecutive doubles by Willie Tasby and Dale Long in the seventh.

The White Sox won with two runs in the sixth inning, pairing doubles by Minnie Minoso and Sammy Esposito with an error, against Jerry Walker (3-4). Turk Lown saved it for Wynn (7-1).

Two walks and a single by Albie Pearson off Camilo Pascual (6-11), the loser in relief, settled it for the Angels in the ninth inning. Art Fowler (2-2) was the winner with two perfect innings of relief.

Keane Promises No Miracles After Replacing Hemus At Cards' Helm

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Promising no miracles, and certainly no pennant this year, 48-year-old Johnny Keane, the new manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, said today:

"I am most concerned right now in winning a few ball games. 'I don't think there is anything seriously wrong that we can't correct—and we might do it over night.'"

Keane, who signed a contract for the remainder of this year and 1962, stepped up from his Cardinal coaching job when the Redbirds dismissed Solly Hemus Thursday.

Hemus, whose firing was not unexpected, took the club's action with good grace. He held the job since 1959.

"It's part of the game," said Hemus without anger. "You've got to expect it when a club isn't going good."

Keane was not too disturbed over the 10-1 loss to the Dodgers Thursday night. Nothing jelled and four errors seriously injured St. Louis.

Keane has been with the Cardinal organization 30 years, most all in the minor league chain as a player and manager, until taking the coaching job at St. Louis. A quiet-spoken, gray-haired, affable man, Keane said:

"We believe that we can have a favorable season from now on. We're too far back for a pennant. But we hope to build up momentum which will carry us into next year."

One-Hitter By Sadowski Pitched In IL

By The Associated Press

If three's a crowd, then Syracuse's Ted Sadowski almost joined an elite one in the International League.

The 6-foot-2 right-hander came within one hit of hurling the third IL no-hitter within a week Thursday night as he beat Rochester 3-2 on one single.

Last Saturday night, Rip Coleman of Toronto shut out Richmond 3-0 in a 7-inning game, and Art Quirk of Rochester hurled a 5-0 no-hitter against Syracuse Tuesday.

Sadowski, now 3-2, had been with the American League's Minnesota Twins earlier in the year. Thursday night he retired the last 20 men in order after Bob Johnson's first inning single. Two of the four walks he allowed for both bined with two errors for both runs.

Charleston moved back to within 3-1/2 games of first place, beating league-leading Columbus 3-2; Richmond defeated Jersey City 5-2; and Buffalo ended a five-game losing string, beating Toronto 4-1.

Two of Charleston's runs were unearned, with Ed Sada's error paving the way for the clinchers in the seventh on RBI singles by pinch hitter Fred Whitfield and Julio Gotay. Ray Mejias drove in both Columbus runs.

NBA Showdown Slated Today On Patterson Issue

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Boxing Association faced a showdown today in its effort to make heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson defend his title by Sept. 13 against one of the six top NBA contenders.

The virtual ultimatum was greeted with jeers by the promoter of the planned Patterson-Tom McNeely title fight in Boston.

The NBA charges McNeely is not a qualified contender, and warns it may strip the champion of his crown if he goes through with the match.

"Ridiculous," said promoter Tom Bolan. "They didn't take the title from Ingemar Johansson and it was a year before he fought Patterson a return bout."

Bolan said the NBA edict will not influence his plans to stage the bout.

The peak of the fish catching season is over until fall.

True, a big bass, a few crappies and some good stringers of bluegills and bullhead catfish will be taken, along with big fat carp, but, generally speaking, walleyes, muskies and bass will become very inactive in this section.

This does not rule out the good fishing that can be had in various parts of Canada, where the water temperatures remain in the 60's.

I cannot help but wonder why so many people ignore the excellent camping and picnicking areas which are available in the district.

The mere mention of Lake Guilford will make some people turn up their noses. Getting around among the campers, who are usually very congenial, I ask them how they like the area. I have yet to hear one complaint.

They all agree that it is a nice, clean place for a camp-out. And one man told me that the sanitary facilities were cleaner than you would find in some homes. People travel for miles to camp at Lake Guilford, with a very nice bathing beach right next to one of the campsites also providing sanitary facilities and dressing rooms for the swimmers. The beach is a well policed and enjoyed by thousands each year.

All day Sunday cars entered the swimming area bumper to bumper. It took each car about 30 minutes to get a parking place and the parking area was filled right up to the point of entrance.

When a sudden storm hit in the afternoon, there was a mad scramble for the dressing rooms and autos.

CHANNEL catfish that have been stocked in Guilford for the last three years have reached 9 inches, giving good indication they will do well. Fly fishermen are still taking those small crappies from 6 to 8 inches a dime a dozen.

Some people haven't learned that picking up baby wild animals this time of the year is illegal.

Keep one thing in mind: You have every right to leave them alone under all conditions and no right to pick them up and take them home. If an animal is in distress and needs help, call the game protector.

He will place it in protective custody. But in most instances they should be left to shift for themselves in the wilds where nature intended them to be.

Rosi And Donnelly Wait Televised Bout

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A couple of boxers with lightweight title ambitions, ringwise Paolo Rosi and young Jackie Donnelly, clash Saturday night in a nationally televised bout at Buffalo's War Memorial Auditorium.

The winner of the 10-round bout will be awarded the mythical New York State title, vacant since the retirement of Bobby Scanlon, who decided Donnelly in May 1960.

Rossi, 33, is the 7-5 favorite. He is ninth-ranked in the division.

Donnelly, 26, comes into the fight as the hometown favorite.

Opposing LL Pitchers Uncork No-Hit Games

SEDALIA, Mo. (AP)—Opposing pitchers in a Little League baseball game here Thursday night each pitched a no-hitter.

The Optimists beat the Lions Club 1-0, getting a run in the second inning on two Lions Club errors.

Johnny McKenzie, winning pitcher, struck out 10 and walked five in the six-inning contest.

Mike Wingate, the loser, struck out nine and walked three.

Weirton Firm Gets Contract

Hancock County commissioners Thursday awarded a contract to the T. J. Garlick Plumbing Co. of Weirton on its low bid for installing new gas boilers in the County Courthouse and Health Department buildings in New Cumberland.

One of nine area firms to bid on the projects, Garlick's low offer was $5,313.96.

The Type 66 gas boilers will be installed immediately, the Weirton firm told commissioners at their meeting Thursday in New Cumberland. The work is expected to be completed in about 30 days.

The new gas boiler will replace an old coal furnace formerly used to heat the Courthouse. Sherwin Williams is custodian.

The boiler in the 40-year-old Courthouse will provide 1,800,000 BTU's, while the smaller one in the Health Department nearby will produce 600,000 BTU's, the firm told commissioners.

Commissioners also continued sitting as a Board of Equalization and Review to hear any tax complaints of Grant District residents. However, none were filed.

Commissioners will hear tax complaints of Clay District residents today, Monday and Tuesday. They will sit as an Equalization Board for Butler District residents July 12, 13 and 14. The final day for any county resident to file a complaint is July 20.

Ex-Convict Held For Posing As Capital Lawyer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — FBI agents in San Francisco Thursday night arrested an ex-convict who impersonated a Washington, D.C. attorney and handled some 100 cases. At least three of his clients face the death penalty.

In Washington, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover identified the man as Daniel Jackson Oliver Wendell Holmes Morgan, 50, a Negro.

Morgan has been the object of an intensive search since he fled Washington June 23, the FBI said.

Morgan practiced law in Washington under the name of L. A. Harris, an attorney who practices elsewhere but was admitted to the district bar in 1955.

The three former Morgan clients who await execution on the District of Columbia's death row were not identified.

Morgan was born in Birmingham, Ala.

He served two concurrent six-month jail sentences for contempt of court in 1957 after his arrest in Los Angeles for impersonating a Chicago attorney.

Hoover said Morgan's record includes convictions for petty larceny, first degree robbery, vagrancy, burglary and carrying concealed weapons.

Kennedy Says Decision On CD Isn't Completed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says a decision on reorganizing the nation's civil defense system has not been completed.

"We aren't prepared to say anything about it," White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Thursday.

He spoke to newsmen after President Kennedy met with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Frank B. Ellis, director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization.

McNamara and Ellis are the two principals in the reported struggle over the major role in civil defense. Budget Director David Bell also attended the White House meeting.

Kennedy has told Congress the Pentagon should take over chief responsibility for civil defense.

Ellis has opposed the shift, insisting civil defense responsibility should remain a civilian function under his agency.

3 District Motorists Get Traffic Penalties

Three area drivers were penalized Thursday in County Judge Herbert Arfman's Court at East Palestine.

Dallas Carlisle of East Liverpool R. D. 2 was fined $10 and costs for speeding. George Danford of Weirton forfeited a $15 bond for failure to yield the right-of-way and Cecil Adams of Lisbon R. D. 2 forfeited a $15 bond for speeding.

Judith Ann Hartman To Wed At Rites In Lisbon On Aug. 20

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Hartman of Fairfield Rd., Lisbon, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Judith Ann, to Grover Lee Lippincott, son of Mrs. James P. Pendry of N. Jefferson St. and the late Russell Lippincott of Minerva.

The open church wedding will take place Aug. 20 at 3:30 p. m. at the Lisbon First Presbyterian Church.

Miss Hartman is a senior student nurse at Aultman Hospital School of Nursing in Canton and will be graduated in August. Lippincott is associated with his uncle at Minerva in Farming.

Mr. and Mrs. Errol Donahoe have returned from a honeymoon trip along Lake Erie and are residing temporarily with the bride's mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Adams of Lincoln Highway, east, following their marriage Saturday evening at 8:30 in the parlor of the First Christian Church.

The Rev. William Spangler, pastor, officiated for the double ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate family. Vases of white gladiolus and mums decorated the room.

The bride was Miss Cecile Cunningham, daughter of Mrs. Adams and Ralph Cunningham of East Liverpool, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Donahoe of W. Lincoln Way.

The bride wore an aqua chiffon street length dress of grecian style, white lace mitts and a white hat. She carried a white bible topped with a white orchid and cascading satin wedding streamers.

Her sister, Miss Shirley Swearingen, was maid of honor and the only attendant. She wore a black sheath dress with white accessories complemented with a corsage of red roses.

Darrell Donahoe was his brother's best man.

The mother of the bride chose a beige dress with black accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a beige broadcloth sheath dress with black and white accessories. Both wore corsages of yellow roses.

Reception Scheduled

A reception and open house will be held for the young couple in the near future.

The bride attended David Anderson High School. The bridegroom a Lisbon graduate, has served two years in the Army and is employed as a dealer salesman for the Fuller Brush Co.

They plan to reside in Minerva.

The wedding of Miss Virginia Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Armstrong of Lisbon R. D. 3, and David Pasco, son of Andrew Pasco of Lisbon R. D. 5, which was to have taken place Thursday afternoon at the Lisbon Church of Christ, has been postponed until a later date.

The East End Club met for 500 Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Iva Novak of Caldwell Ave.

Winners were Mrs. Grace Thompson, a guest, and Mrs. Reisinger. Mrs. Marcella Welsh also was a guest. Lunch was served.

Mrs. Alma Metz of Pritchard Ave. Ext. will entertain July 19.

The Past Councilors Club met Wednesday night at the Daughters of America Hall, with Mrs. Mildred Hiscoc, Mrs. Esther Nicholson, Mrs. Lela Stock and Mrs. Jeanette Figley as hostesses.

Several tables of 500 were in play, with prizes going to Mrs. Virginia Williams and Mrs. Florence Stacey. Other awards went to Mrs. Sara Holshue and Mrs. Iva Manizer. The hostesses served lunch.

The next meeting will be July 19.

Ralph Boso and daughter, Mary Beth, of E. Washington St. have gone to Albuquerque, N. M. to visit with Mr. and Mrs. James Babb Jr. and family. They expect to be gone all summer.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Husted and children, Terri, Richard and Barbara, of Santa Maria, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Lewis of Canfield spent the Fourth holiday with Mrs. Kathryn Pike of W. Washington St. All are former Lisbon residents. Mrs. Husted is the former Vivian Lewis.

Visit In Mineral Ridge

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gunn of W. Lincoln Way spent the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hood of Mineral Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kelly and family of Cleveland were holiday guests of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Donahoe and family, at their cottage at Guilford Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wetzel of W. Maple St. have returned home after visiting their son, Atty. and Mrs. William Wetzel and son, Mark, of Barberton.

Deborah and David Delaney of East Liverpool are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Ross Carnes of N. Beaver St.

Trucker Held In Death Case

A Mingo Junction truck driver was bound over to the September term of the Jefferson County Grand Jury under $5,000 bond at a preliminary hearing Thursday before County Judge Helen M. Huntsman of Toronto.

Donald R. Gump, 29, the lone survivor of a traffic crash June 21 on Ohio Route 7 north of Steubenville in which three persons died, was released after posting bond.

A manslaughter charge was filed against Gump by the Ohio State Highway Patrol from Winterville.

During the two-hour hearing, Patrolman W. L. Staugh, who filed the charge, was questioned by Atty. Ted Cooper of Steubenville, Gump's counsel.

Atty. John Spon, assistant county prosecutor, also was present.

Gump was the driver of a tractor-trailer rig that was involved in a triple collision which claimed the lives of Mrs. Mary Mull, 58, and Clarence K. Alban, 76, of Steubenville, who were in an auto, and Kenneth E. Leone, 20, of Flushing, driver of a produce truck.

Beaver Sewage Plant Work Halts In Dispute

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP) — Laborers halted work Thursday at sewage treatment plant construction sites in Ambridge and Rochester in a wage dispute.

Local 1058 AFL-CIO Heavy Construction Workers picketed two prime contractors, and other workers refused to cross the picket lines.

Birmingham Construction Co. of Michigan is building the Ambridge plant. Ben Construction Co. of Rochester is working on the plant in that town.

Work at a plant in Vanport continued after the contractor signed a new agreement with the union for higher wages.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Whatever Happened To Fred Coe?

It's supposed to be only in Hollywood that money corrupts the artist. That's why it's such a surprise to see Madison Ave. do it to a nice young fellow from Alligator, Miss.

We're discussing Fred Coe, who has been referred to as the "big daddy" of TV drama. He produced "Philco Goodyear Play—Hal Humphrey House" and developed such now famous writers as Paddy Chayefsky, Horton Foote, Tad Mosel, Sumner Locke Elliott.

In his testimony before the recent FCC probe into the whys and wherefores of TV, Coe allowed as how the testimony about sponsors and agencies interfering in program content was so much hoop-de-doo.

"We had many, many long fights about what happened, but basically, at all times the sponsors believed in what we were doing," Coe told his interrogators at the FCC last week.

IT JUST DIDN'T sound like the same Fred Coe from Alligator, Miss., whom I talked to in September, '54. Here's what he said then.

"Sponsors want no strong reactions from their audiences, either for or against the show. They have no desire to meet the challenge of a provocative play. Therefore we get a type of dull mediocrity in most TV dramas which is what the sponsor prefers."

"This attitude tends to dope the public into a dream world of unreality. The heroine must always be a 23-year-old beautiful hunk of femininity. Sponsors seem to think that there can be nothing romantic about an ordinary girl."

Yes, sir! That was our Fred Coe seven years ago. Of course, we have to admit that the TV viewers didn't answer Coe's clarion call to arms, and there isn't a heck of a lot for a young fellow to do in Alligator, Miss.—even if Coe decided to go back.

Still, the next time he wipes his clay feet on a welcome mat out this way, we'd prefer he didn't lecture us on the evils of Hollywood.

TWO DAYS after Fred Coe testified in New York for the FCC, Robert Montgomery got up to decry TV's overabundance of violence. Seven years ago, Coe was worried about TV's obsession with surface beauty.

"They even try to make President Eisenhower beautiful. Bob Montgomery and his TV crews spend hours making sure that Ike is going to 'look good' on the TV screens. I don't think the people elected Ike for his looks. In fact, I don't want him to look too pretty. I'll feel safer if he doesn't," said the angry young Coe of yesteryear.

The current campaign against

TV violence is causing "Gun-smoke" producer Norman Macdonnell long hours of relentless searching. He has to pick 52 "Gun-smoke" episodes which will be repeated on CBS-TV next season in addition to the new hour-long "Gunsmoke" series.

In picking the 52 repeaters, Macdonnell has been cautioned by the network to find those with a minimum of violence. Lots of luck!

SEX AND VIOLENCE on TV is no big problem in Japanese TV circles, according to Yuriko Saisho, the comely miss who heads up the Nippon ad agency in Tokyo.

"Westerns are liked in Japan because they are not complicated," says Yuriko. "As for sex, we have big variety shows late at night, after the children are in bed, and these shows feature nudes."

"The one trouble is your 'Superman.' Parents want him off the television because too many children are jumping off roofs and trying to fly like 'Superman,'" reports Yuriko.

What a way to train future Kamikaze pilots! Abby Mann, author of TV's "Playhouse 90" "Judgment at Nuremberg," has been here adapting the Stanley Kramer movie version.

He says the writers are to blame for TV's sameness and dullness, that they are brainwashed and only writing for money. "Rod Sterling is too derivative. He has no original thoughts. Reginald Rose is against sin. All TV writers have lost their guts," says Abby.

But all is not lost. Word just came from the California All-Year Club that for the first four months of this year, Lawrence Welk was second only to Disneyland as a tourist attraction!

Mrs. Howard Hochmann of Lisbon was a guest. Mrs. Frank Sturgeon of Elkton will entertain July 19.

The WSCS of the Methodist Church cleaned the Parish Hall Thursday morning as an annual project.

South Africa Acts To Stem Any Invasion

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The South African government has moved troops and air and sea forces into the huge territory of South West Africa to guard against any black revolt or invasion from strife-torn neighboring Portuguese Angola.

At the same time, South Africa—which rules "South West"—under an old League of Nations mandate—has barred entry to a United Nations committee instructed to investigate charges of racial discrimination.

The U.N. investigators are touring other African countries to interview available refugees from South West. The committee said it would enter the disputed territory despite the ban, and the South African government said it would arrest any committee members that crossed the border.

The South African government contends that its racial segregation policies in South West as well as South Africa are a domestic matter and no concern of the United Nations.

South West Africa was a pre-World War I German colony. It is 317,725 square miles in area and has a population of about 415,000 blacks and 50,000 whites. Largely pastoral and desert, the South West contains diamond mines and good enough oil prospects to have Americans and other foreigners searching.

But most of all, it represents a buffer state between white-ruled South Africa and black independent states of Africa.

South West has a long South Atlantic coastline which with South Africa's own huge Atlantic and Indian Ocean coasts make a long patrolling area for naval and air forces much larger than South Africa can afford. South Africa's defense minister, James J. Fouché, has recently been visiting Britain and other European countries to shore up this defense.

But the main concern at present is the 900-mile frontier between South West Africa and Portuguese Angola.

The chief immediate purpose of South African forces is to flush out or choke off gun running from Angola, or via the coast, to South West Africa's blacks and to prepare to repel any "terrorist" activity that may cross South West Africa's border with Angola.

Midland Lists Change For Food Distribution

The distribution of Beaver County surplus food Monday at the Midland United Steelworkers Hall has been changed to 1 to 5 p. m., the union office reported today.

The distribution had been set for 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. It is for recipients living in Midland, Industry, Smiths Ferry and Ohio Township. Each applicant must have his identification card and his own container for food.

The list of commodities includes flour, butter, canned pork and gravy, rice, beans, eggs, milk, peanut butter, rolled oats and lard. Benedict Zupi is surplus food administrator.

'Big Business' Assumes Bigger Role In Economy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The increasing bigness of big business is to play a larger role in the American economy and therefore in your life. And it may soon become a larger issue in politics.

The government itself is enlarging its role in business—more public housing, sharply increased government construction, a drive for more government-sponsored utilities, larger contributions to many facets of personal income such as Social Security and jobless relief programs, programs to cut interest rates and increase private borrowing.

Private business is getting ready for what it confidently hopes will be a new surge forward—perhaps this fall, perhaps next spring. And usually that means that the big get bigger. Even during the recession the largest corporations, as a whole, made creditable showings in sales, earnings and assets.

And in the past decade the growth of the biggest has been striking.

In a study of the 100 largest non-financial corporations, First National City Bank of New York economists find 54 with assets of one billion dollars or more, compared with 22 in 1950. In the 1950s those with assets of more than $2 billion rose from 5 to 20.

Assets accounted include land, plant, equipment and current cash, government securities, receivables and inventories.

Combined, the 100 largest were worth $176 billion, had total sales and revenues last year of $135 billion, paid federal income taxes of $6.4 billion, and employed 5.8 million men and women.

Their registered shareholders totaled 12.5 million, although this includes duplication by those owning shares in more than one company.

Eichmann Declares Role Of Killer Thrust On Him

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP)—Adolf Eichmann begged Israel today to understand that his role in the Nazi extermination of the Jews was thrust upon him against his will just as "millions of others" had to follow the dictatorship of Adolf Hitler.

Before the start of the prosecution's cross-examination, the former Gestapo officer told the special Israeli tribunal: "I had no luck."

Eichmann said society is bound together in a system whereby a state exists on orders and obedience and could never survive on "spies and traitors alone."

"He who has a good sovereign to lead him is lucky," said Eichmann. "I had no luck. The head of my state ordered these deportations (of the Jews to the death camps) and my task was to carry out these orders from the top."

The man charged with major responsibility for the death of six million Jews refused to plead guilty "legally" but he said from an "ethical" viewpoint he certainly was guilty.

"The (legal) guilt is to be borne by those responsible for the political decision to order deportations," Eichmann said. But "ethically, in one's attitude toward oneself, the sense of guilt applies to concepts above the law. Here I condemn myself and continue to examine myself. I try to argue with myself. In conclusion, I beg to say here I have pany. The 100 paid out $6 billion in dividends, an average of $2 a share.

In the billion-dollar asset group are 28 manufacturers, 1 retail trade chain, 9 transportation companies and 15 utilities. The top five in assets among the non-financial corporations are American Telephone & Telegraph, Jersey Standard Oil, General Motors, U.S. Steel and Ford Motors.

The top five in sales were GM, Jersey Standard, AT&T, Ford, and A&P. The top five in earnings were AT&T, GM, Jersey Standard, Ford and Texaco.

Noting expressed worries lest Washington start taking a less favorable view of the bigness of big business, the bank economists list some of the ways that big business is a help to government endeavors.

First comes tax paying. Adding federal, state, local and foreign taxes paid and charged as costs, the 100 largest shelled out $8.8 billion in 1960. They also collected for the government some $7 billion in excise or sales taxes, paid $1.3 billion in old age pension and unemployment taxes, withheld about $1 billion from employees for old age pension taxes and $4 billion for income taxes.

But big business, say the bank economists, also is increasingly helping in vocational training, including some retraining programs for workers displaced by automation or other economic changes.

Business spends more each year on research and development programs, both on its own and in collaboration with the government. Total such expenditures in industry in 1960 are put at $9.8 billion.

And many of the 100 largest companies have operations abroad, which the bank economists say have more plus than minus signs in aiding our foreign relations.

regrets and condemnation about this extermination of the Jewish people, ordered by the German rulers.

"I was a tool in the hands of the strong and powerful and in the hands of fate itself, which knows no mercy," he said.

The court, the prosecution and the audience were held almost spellbound as Eichmann gave the carefully enunciated description of his "true feelings."

He said under the system he joined in 1932 as a Nazi street fighter rising through the ranks to high office in the SS, he had to obey or die.

Generals might feign sickness or get transferred to other jobs, he continued, but lieutenant colonels like himself could only kill themselves to escape orders. He tried to divorce himself from the job of transporting the Jews to destruction, but he never succeeded, he insisted.

While Eichmann had repeatedly pleaded "superior orders," it was the first time he had laced into the Nazi regime. But he never once used the word "Nazi" nor did he call Hitler by name.

At early afternoon, the trial adjourned until 8:30 a.m. Monday.

Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner indicated he would cross-examine Eichmann for at least four days, possibly all of next week. A recess is planned after that to enable the state and the defense to prepare their final summations, covering the evidence of 13 weeks since the case opened April 11.

Magicians Reveal 'Inside' Story; There's Trick To It!

By DORMAN CORDELL
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A bunch of magicians told me the inside story today: There's a trick to what they do.

I felt like an American spy turned loose in Khrushchev's private files.

Some 500 members of the International Brotherhood of Magicians are holding their convention here—and revealing secrets of their arts left and right to one another.

And to anybody else who happens to be around.

I even found out how to cut off a woman's head with a genuine buzz saw—and restore it in good condition, of course. The head, that is.

"Listen, a magician's most closely guarded secrets are available in any public library," said one magician. "They always have been. Where do you think I got most of my act?"

Besides, the secret is only part of the effect, he added. Even more important is the performer's skill.

"Yes, you can tell the amateur," said Okito, a specialist in oriental magic who has been a performer for 35 years. "The master's touch just isn't there."

Okito, whose real name is Theodore Bamberg and who lives in Chicago, is descended from a family of magicians that reaches back seven generations, to the early 17th century.

The easiest people to mystify, said Okito, are brilliant ones. "They are more apt to think logically, which plays right into a magician's hands," he said.

MacArthur's Heading Toward Leyte Island

ABOARD THE LAPU LAPU WITH MACARTHUR (AP)—U.S. General of the Army Douglas MacArthur sailed tonight through the Sibuyan Sea aboard the Philippines' luxurious presidential yacht toward Leyte Island where he launched the liberation of the Philippines in World War II.

It was smooth sailing. A tropical storm had moved away from the islands after causing heavy rains Thursday during the general's visit to Lingayen.

MacArthur was getting a welcome rest aboard the Lapu Lapu from four strenuous days of his 10-day sentimental return to this Southeast Asian republic. He has received a tremendous reception. Final preparations were under way at Tacloban, on Leyte, where the general will arrive Saturday.

Grants Up To $250,000

23 Ohio Sewage Projects Receive Federal Priority

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Twenty-three sewage treatment plant projects in the state have been assigned priority for federal grants by the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board.

The grants can be up to one-third of the cost of the plant or a maximum of $250,000.

Ohio has received about $1.6 million in federal assistance toward sewage plant construction in each of the last five years. This year the figure is expected to go up by about $1 million.

The order of priority, based on the per capita cost and per capita income in the area (total project cost listed first, then estimated grant):

Painesville Sewer District No. 3, $2,769,000 and $146,724; Heath (Licking County), $1,690,000 and $194,410; Millersport (Fairfield), $326,000 and $27,300; Fairfield (Butler), $4,206,000 and $250,000; Williamsburg (Clermont), $590,000 and $46,920.

North Royalton (Cuyahoga), $3,324,000 and $209,550; Strongsville (Cuyahoga), $2,855,000 and $224,772; Trumbull County Sewer District No. 3, $258,500 and $35,500; Medina County District No. 100, $2,245,000 and $250,000.

Belmont County Sewer Authority, including Martins Ferry, Bellaire, Bridgeport and Brookside, $6,225,000 and $250,000; Lucas County District No. 8, $1,573,000 and $250,000; Shreve (Wayne), $196,400 and $56,160.

Carey (Wyandot), $333,000 and $102,000; Elyria, $4,985,000 and $250,000; Waynesville (Warren), $110,000 and $33,000; Wellston (Jackson), $200,000 and $60,000; Celina (Mercer), $965,000 and $105,000.

Bryan (Williams), $468,000 and $140,000; Vandalia (Montgomery), $479,000 and $118,945; Barborton (Summit), $2,063,000 and $250,000; Canfield (Mahoning), $198,000 and $53,615; and Napoleon (Henry), $237,000 and $68,700.

Barron To Head Ceremonies Opening New Dam At Sutton

SUTTON, W. Va. (AP) — Gov. Barron will cut a small ribbon at 3 p.m. (EDT) Saturday to open officially the $34.5 million Sutton Dam and reservoir one mile east of here on the Elk River.

It will mark the completion of nearly a quarter-century of planning and construction.

The main speaker will be Army Secretary Elvis J. Stahr Jr. Some 10,000 persons are expected to attend.

The dam, 220 feet high and nearly a fourth of a mile long at its top, will provide flood control on the Kanawha, Ohio and Mississippi rivers.

Congress approved construction of the dam in 1938. But two wars intervened to delay its completion.

Actual construction was not started until 1949. The work was curtailed during the Korean War and was not resumed until December, 1955.

The reservoir will drain an area of 537 square miles.

Operated in conjunction with the Bluestone Reservoir on the River and Summersville Reservoir on the Gauley River, the Sutton facility is expected of floods in the industrialized and heavily populated Kanawha Valley.

It also will provide one of the state's most attractive recreation areas.

Boating, swimming and fishing facilities are plentiful on the 14.5 mile-long recreation lake behind the dam. The 7,000-acre Elk River Public Hunting Area runs along its southern shore.

Hundreds of persons have toured the site during the past two days. This Braxton County community has gone all out to stage three days of celebration, including sky-divers, an aqua show, parades and exhibits.

Officials estimate 35,000 people will have visited the area by Saturday evening.

None Hurt As Bomb Explodes In Paris

PARIS (AP)—A plastic bomb apparently set with a time fuse, exploded early today in the sprawling Hotel Des Invalides, about 250 yards from Napoleon's tomb. No one was injured.

Police investigating the blast found traces signed by the extreme right wing "secret army organization" of Europeans in Algeria who oppose President Charles de Gaulle's Algerian policies.

Except The Sheiks

Kassem Says Arabs Back Him In Claiming Kuwait

By WEBB MCKINLEY

BAGHDAD (AP)—Premier Abdel Karim Kassem of Iraq says he believes practically all Arab people—except the sheiks—support his claim to the newly independent sheikdom of Kuwait.

But he pledged once more not to use force to get Iraq's tiny oil-rich neighbor.

Kassem gave his views Thursday in his first interview with Western newsmen since announcing last Sunday that he regards Kuwait as historically part of Iraq. He appeared in excellent spirits.

"We will never use any means but peaceful means," he said. "We will never resort to aggression."

"Again I must assure you Kuwait will return to the motherland," he said, adding "but we do not live in barbarian ages when brutal means are used to defeat the well-being of man."

Though Kassem told newsmen

he was sure Iraq would get Kuwait without going to war, he didn't say how. He hedged on the question of a plebiscite among Kuwait's 320,000 inhabitants.

"There is a sort of zigzagging on this particular question," the premier said. "Would you like us to go to Aberdeen or Liverpool and ask if the people there wanted a plebiscite?"

Kassem said that except for a number of sheiks he denounced as corrupt playboys, "practically all the Arab peoples" support his claim.

He specifically excluded Saudi Arabian sheiks from his denunciation, although King Saud is the staunchest Arab backer of Kuwait's independence and has sent troops to the threatened sheikdom.

"Saudi Arabia is an independent state whose development is gradually benefitting people," Kassem said.

C & O 'Parades' Shippers To Push Plans In Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad has paraded major freight shippers before the Interstate Commerce Commission to endorse its bid for control of the Baltimore & Ohio system.

A dozen witnesses Thursday expressed the hope that improved rail service and possibly lower freight rates would result from the proposed merger.

They were less enthusiastic as attorneys for the New York Central Railroad asked their reaction to Central's petition for a three-way combine to include Central, Both C&O and B&O oppose this. Some refused to express an opinion. Others said the idea needed more study. Still others said it might be okay in the future.

Ernest E. Allison of Lancaster, Ohio, traffic director for the Anchor Hocking Glass Corp., said, "Our position here now is to endorse the proposal of C&O because that proposal has been approved by both C&O and B&O stockholders."

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average five to seven degrees below normal. Normal high 83-85. Normal low 61-65. Cool throughout the period with little daily change, except slow warming Tuesday and Wednesday. Precipitation will average about one-quarter inch in showers Tuesday or Wednesday.

Payroll Cheating In Canton Called Not 'Extensive'

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Louis H. Khoury, acting service director, says alleged payroll cheating among city workers here "appears not to be extensive, only localized."

"A few men who apparently took part are unjustly tainting all the personnel of the city," Khoury said Thursday.

Wilson J. Meyers, who resigned as service director effective Wednesday, revealed the cheating last Saturday. He said he had learned a street department worker had been paid by the city while he was working in an industrial plant here. The worker's time card was punched in his absence by a fellow employee, Meyers said.

The worker was fired by Meyers after admitting cheating. No charges have been filed.

The incident touched off an investigation by state examiners and city officials.

Khoury said he had completed a " cursory examination" of water department, sewer department and sewage disposal plant personnel and plans to check back again on the street and motor vehicle departments.

Island's Entire Fleet Of Autos (2) Collide

BJARKOEY, Norway (AP) — This arctic island's entire fleet of automobiles—a truck and a station wagon—collided head on Thursday at a bend in the island's only road.

A woman passenger in the station wagon suffered a concussion. The station wagon, which is the island's only taxi, was badly damaged. The truck got off with a few scratches.

BJarkoe has an area of five square miles and a population of 730.
